CONFLICT CONTINUES IN A DOZEN SECTORS OF WAR-TORN CHINA

Sino-Japanese War Persistent and Scattered, With No Immediate Indication of Decisive Stroke For Either Side—Chinese Charge Use of Poison Gas by Japanese Forces

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25 (AP).—Reports from a dozen sectors of regular and guerrilla conflict in the valleys of the Yangtze and Yellow Rivers reached Shanghai today. Taken together, the reports showed little beyond the persistent, scattered nature of the war between China and Japan, and indicated no immediate, decisive stroke for either side.

Hankow was still the pivot on which the war revolved, with reinforced Japanese armies slowly jockeying for position to strike westward above and below the Yangtze to sever two railways which meet at the provisional capital—the Peiping-Hankow on the north and the Canton-Hankow on the south.

REARGUARD DIFFICULTIES

But the reports of guerrilla fighting in nominally Japanese-held territory illustrated the rearguard difficulties of the Japanese, the scope of their task of "pacifying" China. Much of this fighting was within 100 miles of Shanghai.

In the warfare of the regular armies east of Hankow, the Chinese admitted a Japanese column 10,000 strong had advanced ten miles westward in Anhwei Province, north of the Yangtze, and had occupied a

HITCHES WAGON TO NAZI STAR

Hungarians Say Concessions From Little Entente Have Come Too Late

BERLIN, Aug. 25 (AP).—Hungary has hitched her wagon to the Nazi German star.

Concessions from Hungary's Little Entente neighbors have come "too late" to change that fact, say Hungarians traveling with Regent Nicholas Horthy on his state visit to Adolf Hitler.

Hungary's right to rearm despite post-war treaty limitations was recognized by the Little Entente—Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia—in a meeting Monday at Bled, Yugoslavia.

"This gesture by the Little Entente would have meant something earlier, but not now," said one member of Admiral Horthy's entourage arriving today to witness a display of German military might put on for the Hungarian visitors.

LIMITS EXCEEDED

"Heartened by Germany's shattering of the Versailles fetters, we have already gone ahead exceeding the military limits imposed by the Trianon Treaty.

"The 1920 Treaty of Trianon limited Hungary's army to 35,000 officers and men and ceded territory to Yugoslavia, Rumania and Czechoslovakia."

Two positive developments in German - Hungarian relations seem to have resulted from the visit of Horthy and officials of his Government.

TWO DEVELOPMENTS

1. The apparent readiness of landlocked Hungary, bordering Germany south of the Czechoslovak frontier, to consider the recreated German navy practically her own.

2. In return for formidable military protection, Hitler appears to have gained Hungary as a jumping-off place for economic penetration of the Balkans.

Horthy expressed enthusiastic admiration for the German fleet he saw in an impressive parade at Kiel

BLOW UP HOMES FOR PUNISHMENT

British Troops Take Punitive Action For Slaying of Assistant Commissioner

JERUSALEM, Aug. 25 (AP).—British troops blew up several houses in Jenin tonight in punitive action for the slaying of British Assistant District Commissioner W. S. Moffatt by an Arab gunman.

An Arab hunchback, held for the killing, was shot dead in Jenin military camp when, authorities said, he tried to bolt to freedom.

In dynamiting the Jenin homes, the Government declared it was believed "certain inhabitants assisted" the assassin of Moffatt, who died last night from bullet wounds suffered when gunmen invaded district administrative headquarters.

Moffatt was buried at Haifa this afternoon, with full military honors.

Growing Concern Shown Over Inability to Agree On Sudeten German Plan

Apparent Deadlock in Negotiations in Czechoslovakia Threatens Appeasement

THREE STEPS OPEN TO AVERT CRISIS

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP).—An apparent deadlock in negotiations between Czechoslovakia and her Sudeten minority tonight threatened to impede Prime Minister Chamberlain's programme of European appeasement.

Diplomatic quarters indicated growing concern over inability of the Czechoslovak Government and its Nazi-supported German minority to agree on methods of settling Sudeten self-Government demands through mediation machinery offered by the British Runciman Commission.

Compromise Solution Is Probable To Save French Government

PARIS, Aug. 25 (AP).—The political crisis which developed from Premier Edouard Daladier's proposal to modify the forty-hour week law appeared headed today toward a compromise solution, which would preserve the Government and the Popular Front.

The national committee of the Popular Front announced at the close of a special meeting to debate the plan that it "remained unanimous in its desire to maintain the tangibility of social laws ordered by the Republican majority, and to meet all needs of national defence and independence of the country."

The announcement indicated the Socialist, Radical-Socialist and Communist parties, major members of the Popular Front, had agreed on a formula to maintain the principle of the forty-hour week, but to relax its application in favor of longer hours in vital industries.

Holds High Place In Timber Market Of Great Britain

Provincial Official in United Kingdom Says Continued Shipments at Present Rate Will Place Dominion in Front Rank as Supplier Of British Lumber Needs

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (P.).—Canada will climb back to first place among the world's lumber exporters to Britain, according to J. C. Berto, British Columbia's assistant lumber commissioner in the United Kingdom.

Mr. Berto was one of thirty-six representatives of the British timber trade who arrived here today to obtain first-hand knowledge of the British Columbia lumber industry.

Guests of the Provincial Government, the British lumbermen will remain on the Lower Mainland for the next few days, and then travel to Victoria. Accompanying them are W. A. McAdam, acting agent-general for British Columbia in London, and J. C. Berto, the Province's assistant lumber commissioner in the United Kingdom.

NEW RECORD IN SIGHT

"If British Columbia continues to ship lumber to the United Kingdom during the balance of the year at the rate she has established for the first six months, she will set an all-time record and boost Canada into

EXPRESS RUNS WITHOUT PILOT

Engineer and Fireman Leap From Cab Filled With Live Steam

XENIA, O., Aug. 25 (AP).—An engineer and fireman, scalded by a sudden steam blast in the locomotive of the Pennsylvania's St. Louisan, jumped or were hurled to their death today and the fast express thundered pilotless nearly three miles before stopping.

With steam gushing from the empty engine cab, the train sped through the town of Cedarville, six miles east of here, and rolled to a halt at the western town limits.

Railroad hands followed the train and found the bodies of Engineer John L. Breen, fifty-four, and Fireman R. B. Mitchell, forty-six, both of Columbus, along the right-of-way.

Coroner H. C. Schick said that while the men were horribly scalded, skull fractures caused death. He expressed the opinion the trainmen jumped as the live steam made an inferno of the cab. The coroner estimated the train was travelling sixty miles an hour as the men jumped.

J. F. Henry, superintendent of the railroad's Cincinnati division, said an investigation showed that the crown sheet, which divides the boiler and firebox, came off, releasing a blast of steam in the firebox and cab.

Motorist Killed in Kootenays

NELSON, Aug. 25 (P.).—An inquiry will be held into the death of Lambert Fitzpatrick, killed last night when the auto in which he was riding plunged 500 feet over a bank eight miles south of Salmo, B.C. Fitzpatrick leaves a wife and family in Vancouver.

Gunnar Johnson was taken to hospital with serious injuries suffered in the same accident. Both men were in the car when it came to a stop and were alive but Fitzpatrick died before aid arrived from the nearby relief mine at Erie.

Panic Caused by Runaway Barrel

MONTREAL, Aug. 25 (P.).—A 300-pound barrel of pitch plummeted nine stories through stairway landings in the Wilder Building on Bleury Street today, leaving two persons injured and throwing occupants of the office building into a panic.

Workmen tarring the roof carried the barrel from the elevator at the ninth floor up the stairs towards the roof. The heavy barrel escaped from them and tumbled down the stairs, setting off sprinkler systems as it burst through each floor.

Minister Corrects Statements Made on Bren Gun Contract

Hon. Ian Mackenzie Says Maximum Profit Fixed At $267,000, Not $457,000—Makes Reply to Drew's Criticism

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (P.).—A statement issued tonight under the authority of Defence Minister Mackenzie stated the Bren machine gun contract, awarded last March to the John Inglis Company of Toronto, was for $6,500,000, with a maximum profit permitted in the Canadian share of the contract of $267,000.

The statement referred to an article in the current issue of Maclean's Magazine by Lieut.-Colonel George A. Drew. Col. Drew gave the value of the contract as $8,000,000, and stipulated the maximum profit as $457,000. The Minister's statement comments on other statements which the article emphasizes.

The Minister's statement recalls his House of Commons speech of February 14, when he suggested that all Defence Department contracts be referred to the public accounts committee of the House for examination.

GASOLINE PRICE-CUT PROMISED BY PREMIER AT PARTY MEETING

Hon. T. D. Pattullo Warns Single Unemployed Against Further Organization in Course of Account of Stewardship at Liberal Convention—Public Utilities Bill Promised

Suggests Wider Enlistment In Canadian Defence Forces

KELOWNA, B.C., Aug. 25 (P.).—Premier T. D. Pattullo today said British Columbia motorists could "anticipate a considerable reduction" in the price of gasoline, and in the same speech warned single unemployed any further organization amongst their numbers would not be tolerated by the Provincial Government.

In his address, largely a stewardship report, made to the British Columbia Liberal Association convention here, the Premier said Dr. W. A. Carrothers had been appointed fuel commissioner for the province, with power to control oil and coal industries in British Columbia.

Already much valuable information had been gained, sufficient that motorists could expect a gasoline price reduction "in the near future."

PUBLIC UTILITIES BILL

A Public Utilities Bill would be introduced at the next session of the Legislature, and if passed it was the Government's intention to appoint Dr. Carrothers commissioner under that act also.

Mr. Pattullo referred briefly to the "sit-down" occupation of two Vancouver buildings last May and June by "organized" single unemployed, who remained in peaceful possession until they were evicted by police with tear gas and riot sticks.

"It devolves upon you as part of the Liberal party to see that these tactics are no longer effective," the Premier said. "These young men have received considerable public sympathy because we (the Government) have not been able to do all we could have wished in providing employment.

GOING TOO FAR

"But now they are going too far, and it looks like they are organizing in Vancouver again. We simply will not tolerate that any more."

Mr. Pattullo did not say what steps

Quebec Town First Bans Wearing of Shorts in Public

BURBRIDGE, Que., Aug. 25 (C.P.).—To this picturesque town on the Upper Gatineau, eighty-five miles north of Ottawa, has come the distinction of being one of the first Canadian municipalities to ban the wearing of shorts by men in public. Signs have been posted around the town warning visitors of the council's decree.

Seizure of Lands Must Be Stopped

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP).—The United States called upon Mexico tonight to cease further expropriations of American lands without "adequate, prompt and effective payment."

Hull said the United States Government has received "not only with surprise but with profound regret" the contention of Mexico that "there does not exist in international law any principle universally accepted by countries that would render obligatory the giving of adequate compensation for expropriations of a general and impersonal character."

"I do not hesitate," he declared, "to maintain that this is the first occasion in the history of the Western Hemisphere that such a theory has been seriously advanced."

FRANCO MAKES LITTLE GAINS

Insurgent Offensive Turns To Centre Line in Fresh Attempt

HENDAYE, France, Aug. 25 (AP).—The insurgent Ebro River offensive was reported by Government advices today to have turned to the vital centre line in a renewed attempt to drive Government troops from the river's west bank.

Attacks on both the north and south end of the Eastern Spanish battlefront have failed to gain much headway for insurgent General Franco's forces.

Government dispatches said the insurgents now were concentrating assaults towards Corbera on the Gandesa-Mora de Ebro Road in the heart of the battle zone.

ATTACKS REPULSED

Government lines were reported to have repulsed all attacks thus far in the Patida de Fabjuanas Hills just southeast of Villalba de los Arcos and northwest of Corbera.

Government dispatches said that machine-gun nests hidden in olive groves on hills rising 1,500 feet above the valley floor mowed down insurgent troops trying to storm the heights.

In Southwestern Spain insurgents reported they were consolidating recent gains on the Tagus front about ninety miles southeast of Madrid.

TO BUILD MILITARY PLANES

MONTREAL, Aug. 25 (P.).—Noorduyn Aviation, Limited, will manufacture advanced military training airplanes of the type of which Great Britain recently ordered 200 in the United States, R. B. C. Noorduyn, vice-president and general manager, said tonight.

ALASKA ROAD PLAN BACKED

Liberal Convention at Kelowna Endorses B.C.-Yukon Highway

KELOWNA, Aug. 25 (P.).—The British Columbia Liberal Association today went on record as favoring construction of the British Columbia-Yukon-Alaska Highway.

Just after Premier Pattullo described in his stewardship address negotiations he had conducted leading toward construction of the road, delegates adopted the favorable resolution with only two or three dissenting votes amid loud applause and cheers.

During brief discussion Mr. Pattullo assured the convention here that the Dominion Government would have to concur in any agreement whereby the United States might lend money to build the highway. The United States, he said, would have no more control over the road than the purchaser of a British Columbia bond had in the government of the province.

YALE MEMBER OBJECTS

Dr. J. J. Gillis, member of the Legislature for Yale riding, was the principal objector to the resolution. He said the people of his riding felt a transprovincial highway should be completed before a new highway were built.

The Premier replied it was not intended that the Alaska road should interfere with any other road projects in the province but instead it should be an additional project, helping to relieve unemployment, because between 1,000 and 2,000 single unemployed could be employed over a period of five years.

Fortification Constructed In Six Hours

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP).—Karl P. Billner, a Swedish inventor, built in six hours today a concrete defence fortification which army officers said could have been constructed by ordinary methods in no less than two or three days.

The inventor used a suction process by which water and air were drawn off the mixture as soon as it was poured. This caused rapid drying and hardening and also allowed an atmospheric pressure of 1,500 pounds per square inch on the wet concrete.

BASEL, Switzerland, Aug. 25 (CP-Havas).—Lord Duncannon, assistant to Sir Neill Malcolm, League of Nations High Commissioner for German refugees, left by plane today for London after completing an inquiry into Switzerland's refugee problem. Lord Duncannon stated that Sir Neill has proposed the establishment of "stop-over" camps for German Jewish refugees. Under the plan, refugees will be allowed to stay in these camps until arrangements can be made for their entry as legal immigrants to countries which may accept them.

PREMIER SURE OF GETTING OIL

Pattullo Says Government Will Drill in Peace River Block

KELOWNA, B.C., Aug. 24 (P.).—Premier Pattullo said today his Government intended to ask the British Columbia Legislature for a vote to provide for drilling in search of oil in the Peace River block of the province.

Addressing the British Columbia Liberal Association convention, Mr. Pattullo said geological maps showed the land structure in the Peace River district was favorable to development of a huge oil field.

Recently the Turner Valley oil field in Alberta has been developed to such an extent that it has become one of the largest in the world," he said. "Geologists tell us there are just as good prospects in British Columbia.

A British geologist and a University of British Columbia expert were at present studying the Peace River district.

"Once we get the money to start drilling we will keep right on until we get results," the Premier said.

Personally I'm sure we'll strike oil. The British Columbia Government—not any private concern—will own the oil and we'll use it to our best advantage."

FIRE AT OAKLAND IS SPECTACULAR

Spectators Imperilled When Sawmill Boiler Explodes—Six Alarms Are Sounded

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 25 (AP).—The waterfront yard of the Sunset Mill & Lumber Company was destroyed tonight in a six-alarm fire that threatened four ships and halted traffic on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

The flames shot hundreds of feet into the air and a wind scattered sparks and ashes over an area several blocks in extent.

A number of explosions of unknown cause accompanied the progress of the blaze.

A few minutes after the sixth alarm had been sounded, fifty spectators were imperilled when a boiler in the plant exploded. A huge section of a pipe was blown through the fence and stopped at the feet of spectators who had just moved backward from the immediate vicinity of the fire.

Lord Stanley Opens Empire Buildings at Toronto Exhibition

Secretary of State for Dominions Heard in Sister Nations—Reminds Audience That Exchanges Of Goods Between Nations Is Necessary

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP).—Capital of the Empire for a few minutes tonight, Toronto paged Canada's sister nations. In reply, messages came from the far corners of the earth following a greeting from Lord Stanley, Secretary of State for the Dominions in the British Government, as he opened the United Kingdom Pavilion and the Governments Building at the Canadian National Exhibition.

In his first public address since arriving in Canada, Lord Stanley, who is to open the exhibition officially tomorrow, dispatched his message from the bandshell near Lake Ontario and the replies were back in Toronto in a few minutes.

THROUGHOUT EMPIRE

More than 50,000 miles of cable and land wire were required to transmit the message to Malcolm MacDonald, Secretary of State for the Colonies, heads of the New Zealand, Australian and South African Governments and the Indian High Commissioner in London.

Lord Stanley recalled both his predecessors as Dominions Secretary—Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas and Mr. MacDonald—showed their interest in the Empire section of the exhibition by pressing buttons in London which opened the section officially. Tonight, he pressed a button which illuminated the beautiful, modernistic building a few yards away.

MUST EXCHANGE GOODS

"It is true that we in Great Britain can no longer pride ourselves on being the workshop of the world, for with the wider development of industry nearly every country today produces for itself many of the manufactured goods which it needs," Lord Stanley said. "But this does not mean that one country can dispense with all products of the outside world; indeed, for the very reason that a country can supply man of its own needs and export its own products, it is more able to purchase abroad those goods in the manufacture of which other countries show special aptitude through natural conditions or inherited skill."

Lord Stanley called attention to products at the exhibition from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India and the eastern group of the British West Indies. Their exhibits, together with Canada and the United Kingdom, represented all the continents and climates.

MAKES LENGTHY TRIP IN KAYAK

Vancouver Man Beaches Thirteen-Foot Boat After Month-Long Voyage

Victoria is a very pretty port, but awfully hard to find, according to twenty-six-year-old Hans Kirchner, Vancouver, who said he set out a month ago in a thirteen-foot flatboat, or kayak, with nothing to guide him but a road map.

Landing in the Inner Harbor last night after a 150-mile tour of Nanaimo, Cowichan, Brentwood and Sidney, He reported that the most serious trouble he encountered on the whole trip was when he attempted to locate the entrance to Victoria Harbor. The youth cruised back and forth across the waterfront until he sighted Ogden Point.

"I had one other little mishap just before I reached Victoria," the adventurer grinned displaying a splintered paddle. Fishing for his supper off Oak Bay the canoeist hooked a ten-pound salmon and fearing that the fish would capsize his collapsible boat he broke his paddle subduing it.

Born in Kiel, Germany, Mr. Kirchner said he learned the art of handling the fragile little flatboat at an early age, and maintains that they are just as seaworthy as an ocean liner.

"The only trouble is that in a thirty-five-pound boat you haven't much room for picking up hitchhikers," he smiled. Kirchner will spend a week in Victoria before returning to Vancouver.

Yucatan Is Struck By Tropical Storm

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 25 (AP).—The United States Weather Bureau said tonight a tropical hurricane reached the coast of extreme Northeastern Yucatan at 7 p.m. (E.S.T.).

In a 9.30 p.m. advisory, the bureau reported the storm struck in the vicinity of Cozumel Island. Communication with Cozumel was broken about 5 p.m., the advisory said.

LIBERAL EXECUTIVE FILLS TWO OFFICES

KELOWNA, Aug. 25 (CP).—Executive of the British Columbia Liberal Association at a meeting here today re-elected J. E. Thompson, of Vancouver, as its secretary and named A. H. Cox, of Victoria, treasurer.

Mr. Cox has been acting treasurer since resignation last Spring of Brenton Brown, of Vancouver, because of pressure of private business.

CONCERN GROWING OVER SUDETENS

It was believed Ashton-Gwatkin reported that refusal by representatives of the 3,500,000 Sudetens to conipromise had created an impasse.

If a breakdown of negotiations occurred it might hamper Mr. Chamberlain's efforts to bring European peace through appeasement of the dictators.

THREE STEPS OPEN

Observers said three steps were open to the British Government to bring pressure on the Sudetens:

1. A threat to withdraw the Runciman mission, arousing Sudeten fears of Czech reprisals. Great Britain thus might say only that "private efforts" had failed to bring the opposing parties together since the mission is "unofficial."

2. Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is to speak at Lanark, Scotland, Saturday, and might reiterate that Britain reserves the right to fight beside France if any infringement is made on Czechoslovak independence.

3. France and Britain jointly might make a new direct and firm diplomatic stand in Berlin against German support to Czechoslovak's troublesome minority.

EXPECT PRONOUNCEMENT

The press, led by the well-connected Yorkshire Post, confidently predicted Sir John would make an important foreign policy pronouncement at Lanark.

Ashton-Gwatkin's sudden air trip from Praha was said by British officials to be on private business. He plans to return to Czechoslovakia on Saturday.

WAR CONTINUING IN DOZEN SECTORS

village twenty-four miles from Liuan, gateway through the Southwestern Anhwei hills. Liuan lies 150 miles east of the Peiping-Hankow railway at its nearest point.

On the south bank of the Yangtze in the Juichang sector, Chinese forces defending Hankow and the Canton-Hankow railway would not concede that Juichang was in Japanese control.

FIGHTING IN HILLS

Chinese dispatches said severe fighting was in progress in the hills north of Juichang, with positions frequently changing hands. Juichang lies eighty-five miles east-southeast of Sienning, the closest point on the Canton-Hankow railway.

Fighting while raising new defence works, the Chinese reported they inflicted thousands of casualties on the Japanese west of Singtze.

Along the Yangtze just within the 135-mile stretch of river between Kiukiang and Hankow, Chinese shore batteries fired on Japanese war craft. The Chinese said they sank one warship and damaged four others attempting to steam up-river.

TOWN RETAKEN

The "hit-and-run" fighters also said they had retaken the Chekiang coastal town of Haiyen, fifty-five miles southwest of Shanghai, after a Japanese occupation of only two weeks.

A Japanese dispatch said two villages near Yuchakow, Eastern Anhwei, were burned because the villagers were suspected of harboring guerrillas.

POISON GAS

GENEVA, Aug. 25 (CP-Havas).—The Chinese Government formally charged before the League of Nations today that two battalions of its troops were wiped out by a Japanese poison gas attack last Monday near Chuchwang, northeast of Juichang.

The accusation was contained in a note given the League secretariat by Dr. Victor Chi-Tsai Hoo, permanent Chinese delegate at Geneva for the information of League council and assembly members and of the Far Eastern advisory committee.

RAILWAY BROKEN

PEIPING, Aug. 25 (AP).—Night-riding Chinese guerrillas were reported today to have broken the Japanese-operated Peiping-Hankow railroad on the northeast coast of China.

Travelers arriving here early today said some trackage had been ripped up between Tientsin and Tangku, the latter a port on the Gulf of Chihli, twenty-five miles east of Tientsin.

Trains apparently have been shifting their schedules to prevent travelling at night through East Hopeh Province, hotbed of guerrilla activity. Japanese commanders announced a widespread punitive campaign had been organized to wipe out the irregulars.

The Eighth (Communist) Army organized the guerrilla operations which have become increasingly harassing to Japanese guarding the railroad.

MINISTER CORRECTS DREW'S STATEMENTS

this country, and explains how the major's proposals were also reviewed by the National Defence Department and by the inter-departmental committee on control of profits.

The British and Canadian contracts are identical, the Minister's statement says, and were given pursuant to the policy of establishing "shadow factories as a means of developing reserve manufacturing resources against an emergency."

SAVING TO GOVERNMENT

Mr. Mackenzie says the estimated saving to the Canadian Government is more than $1,300,000, when compared with what it would have cost if Canada had not entered into a contract for the Bren guns in conjunction with a similar contract entered into at the same time by the British Government.

Commenting on the periodical's claim that Col. Drew's statements are based on departmental records "as of August 5," the Minister says that "no legitimate access to departmental records of any date has been had by Col. Drew or by anybody purporting to represent him."

Not Too Old to Join Gold Rush

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP).—Dr. Joseph Burr Tyrrell, geologist and explorer, left here tonight for Yellowknife, N.W.T., to join the gold rush in that newly-opened mining territory.

Nearly eighty, Dr. Tyrrell admitted he was "getting up in years now," but said the 3,200-mile journey by rail and airplane would be "easy enough." He said he was making the trip for "my own diversion."

High-Diving Steer Is Shot by Police

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 25 (AP).—A big Texas steer, yearning for the open range, dived from a seventh-story window of a packing house into the White River.

The steer swam the river, trotted through town and put on several impromptu bull fights with bystanders who played cowboy and gave chase. Finally two policemen shot and killed the animal.

OAK BAY LIKELY TO BUY GRADER

Machine Is Now Being Rented by The Municipality and May Be Purchased

The council of Oak Bay, after discussion with the municipal engineer, decided to follow the course outlined by him regarding the road-grader now in use. At the present time, the grader is being used at a rental of $100 a month with an option to purchase, and should this option be taken up before February 28 the money paid in rentals will be accepted as payments on the purchase price.

The engineer referred to the good work done with the grader and the uses to which it could be put in future grading of streets and recommended continuing the renting of the machine with the idea of purchase. The cost of the machine is about $5,750.

After the resolution was passed, delegates voted in favor of another commending improvements and extensions already made in road and bridge construction through the province, and urging a programme to complete all main and primary highways and improve subsidiary roads, and continue assistance in building mining roads and trails.

The meeting adopted resolutions expressing continued confidence in Prime Minister Mackenzie King and united and unswerving loyalty to Premier Pattullo.

Resolutions asking the Government to "consummate the plebiscite of the people and the platform of the party by bringing into effect a health insurance act" and urging reduction of age for eligibility of old age pensions will be considered tomorrow.

PERPIGNAN, France, Aug. 25 (AP).—The French Departmental Prefecture warned French automobile convoys carrying gasoline into Government Spain today. Insurgent General Franco had broadcast the announcement he intended to bomb and machine-gun them with airplanes.

Border officials estimated 100 automobiles and trucks loaded with gasoline enter Spain daily.

Alaskan Fishing Boat Feared Lost

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Aug. 25 (AP).—The report of a trap watchman that the fifty-foot seine boat, Eidsvold's Seine, was found in a tangled mass three miles off Dall Island, in the Pacific Ocean, raised fears tonight the vessel sank within the last two days.

The watchman, John J. Torwick, of the Waterfall Cannery, said the vessel, which has a crew of six, was a day overdue.

ISLAND HIGHWAY BEING REPAIRED

New Six-Mile Diversion Is Now Opened to Traffic Near Koksilah

A report on road repairs being carried out on Vancouver Island highways was released by the British Columbia Bureau of Industrial and Tourist Development yesterday.

On the Island Highway, two miles north of the Gorge Road, widening is being carried out, while at Koksilah, two miles south of Duncan, a new diversion, six miles in length, has been opened to traffic. Reconstruction is proceeding at Campbell River.

Between Parksville and Alberni on the Canadian highway near the Summit, one mile of road is under reconstruction, while surfacing is taking place on the Cowichan Lake road, four miles east of that centre.

Railway Dispute In Eire Settled

DUBLIN, Aug. 25 (AP).—A threatened transportation crisis was averted, temporarily at least, today when the Great Southern Railway agreed with unions involved to defer putting into effect the order posted on August 7 terminating employment agreements with all its personnel. The order would have put all employment on a day-to-day basis.

HOLDS HIGH PLACE IN TIMBER MARKET

front rank as a supplier of Britain's lumber needs," Mr. Berto said.

Berto, who has been concentrating on selling the cedar frame and solid house in Scotland during the past year, said that there was a market each year in the United Kingdom for 7,000 cedar houses.

"There is no reason why British Columbia should not get the orders," he said, adding that cedar from this province had replaced Swedish woods in favor despite the fact that the Swedish lumberman, subsidized by the Stockholm Government, had pioneered the solid house idea in Scotland.

DEPENDENT ON TARIFF

Berto said that the future volume of business for British Columbia mills depended largely on continuance of the present favorable tariff.

"The loss of the British tariff preference would be a serious blow to the Canadian lumber industry," he said.

"The delegation represents, I think, one of the largest number of industrialists from overseas that has ever visited British Columbia in one body," Mr. McAdam said.

"I am extremely hopeful that this personal contact, established between actual importers and our own timbermen, will lead to increased business."

FIRST-HAND KNOWLEDGE

"The idea of this trip is to give the party a complete view of our industry from logging camp to sawmill, and we believe that this experience will enable each member to render better service to his United Kingdom customers by making available to them the knowledge which he has acquired.

"Such was the idea of the Government when the trip was authorized. Only bona fide members of the timber trade made the journey.

"Our party is a thoroughly representative one, and when you come to consider that though guests of the British Columbia Government while in the province, each member has paid for his own transportation, is giving five weeks of his time and is travelling 6,000 miles to enlarge his experience, it will be seen that the trip is regarded as a serious business proposition," Mr. McAdam continued.

HARD TO DISLODGE

Norman French, editor of The British Timber Trades Journal, believes that British Columbia has won a place in the British market from which it cannot be dislodged except by an "economic catastrophe."

French praised the aggressive campaign of the British Columbia lumbermen to build sales abroad.

He told interviewers that ever since British preference took effect, United States lumber exporters had abandoned all sales promotion in the United Kingdom and had made no effort to maintain an interest in the product overseas.

"The only thing to fear would be in the Baltic countries, which would be granted equal access to the British market under the most favored nation class in the event of the United States being given tariff parity with Canada," French said.

RETURNING TO AUSTRALIA

SAY BUILDING PERMITS FALSE

Saanich Council Seeking to Curb Practice of Under Valuation of Houses

At a meeting of the Saanich Council last evening it was decided to inspect all new buildings in the municipality upon completion in an effort to curb an alleged practice of individuals taking out permits for a figure less than the actual cost of buildings.

J. G. Little, building inspector, was instructed to visit all dwellings, and will be assisted by R. R. F. Sewell, municipal assessor.

Councillor Leslie H. Passmore pointed out that a permit had recently been taken out for a five-roomed house at a figure of $1,000, whereas the actual cost to the owner was $2,200.

Reeve Crouch added that drastic action should be taken against individuals who failed to take out a building permit for the construction of a dwelling.

A letter was received from Harold Husband, enclosing copies sent to the municipalities of Oak Bay and Esquimalt and the city of Victoria regarding a transportation franchise. Mr. Husband stated he would like the opportunity of submitting a tender when the matter was brought up for consideration.

A communication from the Victoria Automobile Club over the condition of Belgrave Road was referred to the ward representative for report. A. L. Pinfold wrote to the council complaining of the lack of fire hydrants in the vicinity of Ten Mile Point, Cadboro Bay. The letter was referred to the fire marshal for report.

General accounts amounting to $10,926.96 and direct relief accounts totaling $41.57 were passed.

Madame Fahey has done a great deal of composition in the past few years, and two of her own numbers as well as several request numbers are included in this recital programme, which follows: "The Lost Chord" (Sullivan), Bible Song No. 5 (Stanford), "The Cloths of Heaven" (Dunhill), "The Voice of the Dove" and "Berceuse" (Lugrin-Fahey), "The Holy City" (Adams), the Gospel hymn, "In the Garden" (Miles), and "Peace I Leave With You" (Diehmont). Edward Parsons, organist of Metropolitan, will be the accompanist.

Proposes Storage At Lake Bottom

GENEVA, Aug. 25 (AP).—A member of the Swiss Federal Parliament has proposed to the national defence committee a plan to store reserves of wheat and gasoline at the bottom of Swiss Lakes to remove them from the danger of destruction by enemy attacks. He urged the committee to build huge tanks which would be filled with the needed supplies, then sunk in the lakes.

The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of sweet peas, gladioli and maidenhair fern. The rooms were arranged with pink chrysanthemums and a rainbow of gladioli. Miss Pearl Findlay presented the guest of honor with a large box, decorated to represent a flower garden with an old-fashioned lady standing in it, which contained the gifts. Games were played and prizes were won by Misses Jean Earl, Irene Bond, Yvonne Warren, Agnes Johnson and Grace Hall. Refreshments were served from a table centred with a silver rose bowl of mauve flowers. The invited guests were Mesdames E. Bond, E. Durrell, P. Atkinson, A. G. Carter, O. Bond, W. Bond, F. J. Says Share Pushers To Blame for Fears Of British Capital

W. A. McAdam Says Canadian Promoter Usually Not at Fault for Unfavorable Regard of Dominion Mining Shares

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP). — W. A. McAdam, Acting Agent-General for British Columbia in Great Britain, said in an interview here today that it was a "matter of regret that the Canadian mining industry is not looked upon more favorably by London financial houses."

"This is due to a number of reasons, the chief being, in my judgment, that so many prospects get into bad hands. The fault, I believe, does not as a rule lie with the Canadian promoter," MacAdam said.

"He comes to London honestly enough with a prospect, which he represented as a prospect and nothing more. He attempts to finance it through legitimate channels, fails, and then innocently enough drifts into the ever-ready clutches of the share pusher, who is probably masquerading under the name of some high-sounding firm.

FOISTED ON PUBLIC

"Presently our Canadian friend is persuaded to option a block of shares at prospect price and before he understands what is happening those shares are being foisted on the pubic at a grossly-enhanced figure.

"It was my privilege, under authority of the Government, to give evidence some time ago before the commission on share pushing, held under the auspices of the British Board of Trade.

PREVENTION OF FRAUD

"I submitted, among other things, all data relating to our Security Act, and I am happy to see that in the draft of the Prevention of Fraud (Investments) Bill, which will probably come before the next session of the Imperial House of Commons, some features of our Securities Act have been incorporated.

"The passage of the bill will, I hope, do much to eradicate an evil which has had so adverse an effect in the development of legitimate mining in this Province."

COLUMBIA CITY, Ind., Aug. 25.—A loaded cigar proved anything but a joke to Farmer Heber McNabb.

In a suit he charged Lawrence Schultheis, grocery clerk, gave him such a cigar in the store May 8, 1937.

It blew up, McNabb said, and impaired the sight of one eye. He asked $5,000 damages from Schultheis.

THE PERPETUAL PUPPY

An elderly Yorkshireman was summoned before the magistrate to show cause why he had failed to take out a licence for a terrier.

His oft-repeated reply to the questions of the court was, "Why, he's nobbut a puppy!"

"Yes, yes, so you say," said the clerk. "But how old is he really?"

"I couldn't tell to a bit," was the reply. "I never was much good at dates, but he's nobbut a puppy."

Evidence proved, however, that the dog was long past puppyhood, and the bench inflicted the usual fine. Talking it over afterwards, the farmer exclaimed: "Ang me if I can un'erstand it! Last year an' the year afore that I told the same tale 'bout same dog, an' it wor allus good enough afore! Who's been meddlin' wi' t' law since last year?"

Libby's Tomato Products

"Gentle Press" makes it a 2 to 1 bet that Libby's Gentle-Press Tomato SOUP, Libby's Gentle-Press CATCHUP, Libby's Gentle-Press Tomato JUICE are the best you have tasted

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK OFFER

Should you not agree that Libby's three "Gentle Press" Tomato Products are the best you have ever tasted, Libby will pay you double your money back. Just print your name and address, the purchase price, grocer's name, on the back of any one or all three labels and mail to Libby, McNeill & Libby of Canada, Limited, Chatham, Ontario.

If you could come with us to Libby's Canadian Kitchens during the tomato season you would quickly convince yourself that Libby's patented "Gentle Press" method (Canadian patent No. 334,356) does bring to you the succulent juices of garden-fresh tomatoes with a taste-pleasing flavour that is exclusively Libby's.

Standing at the "Gentle Press" machine, you would sense its magical performance, as before your eyes it rejects the tough outer skin—the bitterness from seeds and coarse fibre—eliminating those parts that mar flavour—extracting only the satisfying, zestful juices. Before Libby's invented this "Gentle Press" process, a large portion of these undesirable parts of the tomato were crushed into a pulp and became a part of the so-called juice which enters into tomato products—tomato juice—tomato catchup—and tomato soup.

The tomatoes themselves are heavily laden with vitamin health-giving juices. They are the result of twenty-five years of careful selection of seeds from the juiciest, most flavourful tomatoes of each year's crop. The result is that Libby's tomatoes today are firm and smooth with practically no skin blemishes—a tenderloin heart—and comparatively free of seeds—but full of luscious appetite-teasing juice. They are grown right at Libby's Canadian Kitchens and picked and processed all within a few hours.

Libby's make this friendly challenge. The next time you are at your grocer's, order a small supply of Libby's "Gentle Press" TOMATO JUICE, TOMATO SOUP and TOMATO CATCHUP. Taste them yourself—ask the whole family to compare them with any Tomato Products they have ever eaten. If you do not agree that they are positively the most flavourful—the very best you have tasted—Libby's will cheerfully refund DOUBLE the purchase price.

Here are other delicious Libby soups you will enjoy, sold under the "Double Your Money Back" guarantee: PEA—VEGETABLE—ASPARAGUS—SPINACH—SCOTCH BROTH

If your grocer cannot supply you, send his name to us at Chatham, Ontario, and we will see that you are supplied

PREFERENCES IN BRITISH MARKET

Mr. Mackenzie King, the Prime Minister, says that Canada has surrendered no trade advantages that she enjoys in the British market; in other words, that she has made no concessions to facilitate the framing of an Anglo-American trade agreement. That does not mean, however, that no concessions will be made; it does not mean that Great Britain may not give to the United States preferences to equal those now enjoyed by this Dominion in certain of her exports. Mr. King says nothing has been settled, which would argue that he knows what stage has been reached in the trade negotiations between Great Britain and the United States, yet he says in the same breath that the negotiations for a reciprocity pact between Canada and the United States will be concluded next month. Since such a pact is contingent, in part at least, on advantages which Canada will lose in the British market, there would appear to be something left unsaid by the Prime Minister.

It has been doubtful all along if any trade agreement between Great Britain and the United States could be reached unless and until the Overseas Dominions see some of their preferences whittled away by American exports enjoying the same privileges in the British market. Strictly speaking, so far as Canada is concerned, Mr. King is correct in saying that Canada has surrendered no preferences. They will continue, but the United States is to have some of them as well, and that means Canada and other Dominions will be competing with certain American commodities on equal terms in Great Britain. Canada may not surrender anything, but she will lose a great deal of that trade which has been built up under the Ottawa Agreement of 1933. Mr. King's attitude on the subject appears to be casuistical.

ST. LAWRENCE PROJECT

The outstanding argument against the St. Lawrence power and seaway project, which is dear to the heart of President Roosevelt, is that, from the standpoint of Canadian co-operation in the development proposed, economic circumstances are adverse. The project is one that does not appeal to the Canadian people, at least at this time. Neither Quebec nor Ontario needs the power that would be developed; they have all that is required for industrial expansion for many decades to come. It is all very well for Mr. Roosevelt to depict "ocean ports" at all the principal cities on the Great Lakes, but transportation men do not believe the vision is likely to become an economic reality.

A tentative treaty was negotiated between Canada and the United States on the subject of St. Lawrence development, and it provided that a very considerable portion of the cost involved would fall on the Ontario Government. Premier Hepburn of that Province says he will have nothing to do with the matter, which means that so long as he is in power the treaty cannot be implemented. He says his Province does not need a share of the power to be developed, and will not need it for a long time. When it does need more power, its policy is to develop it under public ownership. So far as the Roosevelt proposal is concerned, Mr. Hepburn says there will be no consent from his Government. This disposes of the matter as one of practical politics in Canada, but it leave the development project as one of potential strength to the Democrats of the United States in the November elections. Probably it was this desire that led President Roosevelt to advocate it in such strong terms at the opening of the Thousand Islands Bridge. He was speaking politically to hearten his own supporters, and they will perhaps fail to understand the attitude of the people in this Dominion.

LAUGHTER

Few men are without at least a rudimentary sense of humor. There are some occupations in which humor does not prosper. It is likely, for example, that being a dictator and having a sense of humor at the same time must be very difficult. Women are sometimes said to be deficient in this respect, but the matter has never been authoritatively determined. Some women in the severity of their resentment of the imputation have been known to laugh, almost too promptly, to show that they see the joke as well as anybody else, but this does not always carry conviction.

A good joke or a seasonable jest deserves the tribute of a smile at least, or a laugh if that is what the occasion demands or conventional usage approves. There is authority for the statement that "there is a time to laugh." This was uttered by a man of a gloomy turn of mind. He preached a truly "grey and chilly" religion, not far removed from pessimism. The observation was made with the intimation that unseasonable laughter is hard to excuse. It gives no hint, however, as to what are the proper occasions for laughter, whether they are few or many, how it comes about that humor and mirth are closely related whether the mood of the laugher be gay, bitter, triumphant, derisive, or sardonic. Man is said to be the only animal that laughs. Certainly he can laugh in a variety of ways. There is a saying to the effect that he laughs best who laughs last; but after all the best laughers are the children. There is general agreement that the laughter of children is one of the sweetest and finest things in the world. It is not in childhood that the springs of laughter are poisoned by scorn, or pride, or cruelty. The young things laugh, apparently, in the very joy of living. With them the manifestations of mirth are signs of simple good humor and high spirits, and even in adolescence laughter comes easily in response to a very slight stimulus.

There is something to be said for the cultivation of a keener sense of humor in men and women alike and the right development of the faculty of happy laughter. Jest books and comic papers and professional humorists supply food to the appetite of fun and laughter. An encyclopaedia of jests, jokes and good stories should prove popular. They would range from the thin, not to say attenuated, jests that please scholars and scientists, men of letters, philosophers, and divines, down by a descending series through the smile-provoking quips and retorts of men and women of the world and of smart society, and on to the inextinguishable laughter of politicians in hotel lobbies, lawyers on vacation, and merchants after business hours; and further, on through various levels to the homely but penetrating humor of the humble and unlearned. It would be necessary to include in the collection some account of the persiflage of radio entertainers that evokes such gales of delighted laughter from the audience in the studio. Such a book might prove useful as a text for an examination in humor. Psychologists have invented intelligence tests and an "intelligence quotient." Perhaps they will invent humor tests and a "humor quotient."

A sense of humor in good working order is a sign of bodily and mental health. It has been necessary to invent some unpleasant terms to designate certain forms of merriment, such as giggle, titter, guffaw, grin, smirk, and snigger, but no one can condemn seasonable laughter. If the ancient diagnostician was right in declaring that the most dangerous maladies are those that disfigure the countenance it is a reasonable inference that smiles and laughter are good medicine.

HEATHER DAY

Today again the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., commemorates the sailing from here of the first Vancouver Island contingent that left to participate in the Great War. The inception of the idea of keeping this event alive in human memory is due to Mrs. R. B. McMicking, who was the first Regent of the Chapter. It was only a handful of officers and men drawn from different units who were equipped and ready to leave when the first summons came in the fateful days of August, 1914. They were the vanguard of thousands who, in the course of the years, set sail from Vancouver Island to play their part in the greatest of modern dramas. Many failed to return; others came back maimed and broken. To the younger generation the tenseness of the times between 1914 and 1918 is not even a memory; they can hardly envision what it meant when their country was fighting "for all we have and are." The Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter does well to recall one of the most stirring events in the history of Victoria. It is perpetuating the motto of the Order—to keep one hand on the traditions of the race.

The British Medical Journal reports the case of a girl blind from birth who had her sight restored by an operation. One of her first impressions was bitter disappointment at the unhappiness in the human faces she saw around her; she had believed in her darkness that all those who had sight must not only be happy but beautiful. What Nature intended and what men and women have done to themselves, either by a way of living or a way of adornment, seem to be at odds. Evil so often distorts faces that not all the cosmetics imaginable can wash them clean, and, with or without cosmetics, the evil looks out of the eyes and sours the countenance. It is care and hurt and sorrow that make humanity the ugliest species of all creation.

HOW ALWAYS DO THE GENTLE SHINE

How always do the gentle shine.
Earth, being at best a darkened place;
How lovely, stooping with the wine,
Is Pity, like a blessed grace
Upon the spot she bends above,
Where fell too grievously the rod;
Her voice the low voice of the dove,
Her hands the very herbs of God.
—David Morton, in The New York Sun.

God, that all-powerful Creature of nature and Architect of the world, has impressed man with no character so proper to distinguish him from other animals as by the faculty of speech.—Quintilian.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

It is instinctive in human nature to value sincerity, to shun deceit. That is why it comes with such a chilling shock to the centre of reason to look behind the curtain of life, sometimes in the highest places, and find there a pose, a prepared lie, or plain ballyhoo. The thought is of universal application, aimed at no one individual or group. Those concerned with human relations (and who is not?) should follow the pose to its unmasking, the lie to its source, and the ballyhoo to its inevitable and unintended reaction. Then it would be realized that these are the black chickens that always come home to roost. In the meantime, however, an effect has been created, some objective accomplished, or some other result brought about which deludes people into thinking that the end may justify the means. Take, and quite impersonally, the trust of public service: it is the unfilled pledges of the rostrum that have brought politics into disrepute, and kept many able men out of public life. Society is the poorer. It is the pose of assurance where none exists that has tumbled thrones and councils. The prepared lie has led many to irretrievable losses, and soured their whole lives. Ballyhoo puffs up a rosy-tinted soap-bubble which, bursting, leaves nothing but clammy disillusionment in its place. Platitudes, all; yet our neglect of the basic reality of platitudes has cost man much, and will cost him infinitely more. Sincerity, in all human relations, is a test of civilization itself. Our civilization shows up poorly in such a test. Instinct is sound in demanding sincerity of all men. Life itself is one grand lie without it. Applied to writing, sincerity is a basic requirement; part of the initial right to be heard at all. If you would write, feel what you mean, mean what you say, and say what you mean—and the world will forgive all else.

When Canada was building railways, Governments of the day did not ask cities, towns and villages, sometimes non-existent, "Where is your railroad station?" The stations were provided out of public funds, or out of the resources of the railroads themselves. When, for miles on the Atlantic, Arctic and Pacific, Canada was building its marine harbors, Governments of the day did not ask the people of those ports, "Where is your harbor?" Ports were realized as essential to shipping, as national assets. Now that we have a larger ocean, the air, is it logical for Canada to expect cities, towns and villages on the national airway to provide air stations? Yet, today, that question is being asked of Victoria. It is true that the Dominion has offered to contribute one-third of the cost of air ports, where these fit in with the national scheme. It is true that in certain instances, as at Vancouver, the Dominion has given rather more than one-third to such necessary enterprises. Leave the question unanswered for the moment, and approach the matter from another angle. Flying the public entails many express considerations, chief among which are the ground facilities, the groundrails of aviation. A national airway must hold, not alone to some line, but to the nearest direct line that may be drawn between its outer terminals. That, arbitrarily, fixes both the route, and the stopping places, the air stations. Cities, towns and villages on that route are elected by plan, and not by chance. It is a national plan. It is a national selection. Should it not also be a national responsibility? "Where is Victoria's airport?" The question is a reasonable one. Let us ask it of the correct authorities, the Dominion and its elected representatives.

Murder is a hard name. It means to plan and to carry out the death of an individual. The essence of murder is that it is premeditated, thought out in advance. Intent to kill is its specific, distinguishing quality. If it can be proved that armed planes lay in wait for a civil air transport leaving Hongkong; forced the machine with its nineteen passengers to the ground under fire; fired on and killed, or maimed, fourteen of the nineteen helpless occupants in the hope of exterminating one selected individual, then the verdict of the world on the nation responsible for such an act would be direct and without compromise. Even in a state of siege and of war, there are rules, and limitations. To plan and attempt to carry out the death of an unarmed person, merely because he is wanted out of the way, is an attempt at assassination, in any language and in any clime. To fail in the attempt removes not one jot from the intent. Erroneously to kill or wound fourteen other unarmed people merely increases the gravity of the crime, for crime that would be. Later advices may or may not substantiate what has been told of the Hongkong incident. The initial accounts were so circumstantial that world-wide interest has been aroused. The final truth of the matter will be awaited with no less interest; for murder is a hard name, and assassination is its lowest human form. It is the intent that horrifies, outrages the common code of all.

"Politicians Get Wet at Penticton" states a headline in the press, following with a wired account of how two Members of the House of Commons were inadvertently dunked by an Indian canoe. Unfortunately, the item stops there. We do not hear what they said. We cannot know, unless told, what their manner was in the dunking, after the dunking. Naturally, the broadest sympathies will be extended to the two eminent gentlemen, but it does not end there. The press, too, got a little wet. We have, at least, merely part of an interesting story.

Glancing Over Sport

This marathon golf business has invaded the ranks of the fair sex. Only the other day Mrs. Josephine Baltrusis, of Chicago, went out on the nearby course and played 154 holes, and her highest score was only 98. . . . Buck Newsom, with fifteen victories on the mound already this season for the St. Louis Browns, is the first pitcher for this club to win that many games since 1934. No wonder the Browns are floating around in the cellar position season after season. . . . Art Chapman, tip-off ace for the Victoria Dominoes' basketball team and well known in many branches of athletics, is going into business for himself in the near future. . . . Mrs. Helen Moody, tennis queen, who abdicated the other day due to an attack of neuritis, positively states that she will not turn professional this Fall or any other time. . . . Jimmy Todd should go to the post a 10-to-1 shot to win his fifth successive city golf crown at the Oak Bay links. Playing on his home course, Jimmy will shoulder the burden against the field and will be mighty tough to beat when the scrambling gets under way.—J.D.

Mistaken Identity

For several week-ends three ardent fishermen repaired to a Brentwood cabin to angle while they escaped business cares and the heat. Each man had his task in the snug retreat. The first did the cooking, the second took care of the lamps and supplies, and the third supervised the fishing tackle and boat. Several times the cook commented that the coal oil lantern and overhead lamp in use burned with unusual brilliancy. The tackle foreman agreed, and the incident was passed off without further discussion. Next week-end the lamp subject was revived as the three sat down to an evening pipe. They asked the lamp man where he got the coal oil. "From that brown gallon jug in the woodshed," he readily replied. "Jumping Jupiter!" the cook exclaimed. "The jug is full of gasoline." The three fishermen made a bolt for the door. When they gingerly returned they spent the rest of the evening in darkness.—G.B

Truck On Up

Much has been said about Victoria's non-existant airport and many words have been written concerning the best location, but after hearing of the aeronautical attempts of a local truck driver we would like to suggest to the city fathers that if they do decide to build a plane runway they appropriate the hill by the Four-Mile House. It's a natural place for a take-off—even for an overloaded lumber truck. According to reports received from our suburban undercover staff the trucker attempted to roar up the grade with a heavy load of beams projecting over the tailboards of his truck. But the law of gravity, and the fact that the load wasn't balanced correctly, interfered—and the driver found himself high in the air with the front wheels of his truck pointing skyward for all the world like an overloaded plane trying to take the air.—J.A.M.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Colonist of August 26, 1888

Shooting on Street—About 8.30 o'clock last evening a man, considerably under the influence of liquor, rushed out of the North Pacific Saloon, at the corner of Yates and Wharf Streets, and flourishing a revolver, commenced to fire shot after shot indiscriminately. Fortunately but few people were in the vicinity at the time, and the only damage done was to a window of the saloon, the glass of which was shattered. The noise of the shots attracted a crowd, but his friends succeeded in getting him into the saloon again and taking the pistol from him.

James Bay Bridge—The James Bay Bridge is practically completed and on the removal of the surplus materials yesterday, a number of hackmen and teamsters availed themselves of the opportunity to use the bridge, which stood the test admirably, being found firm and steady as a rock. To the surprise of everyone the barricades were again erected and the traffic stopped. On inquiry it was ascertained that this had been done by order of the civic authorities, until the painting of the new sills and the braces underneath was completed, which, it is expected, will take some two or three weeks more.

Fire in Shop—Last evening about 8 o'clock two steamboat men, named Dunlop and Donovan, noticed a bright blaze in the vicinity of D. McLeod's blacksmith shop. Upon examination it was ascertained that the fire was in a shed in the rear of an adjoining cooperage. The men went to work with a will and extinguished the flames.

SPANISH ATROCITIES

Sir,—At this time when Sir Henry Page Croft, member for Bournemouth in the British House of Commons, is in this province it might not be out of place to quote some of the remarks of this eminent parliamentarian with respect to the part played by the Marxists in the present Spanish conflict.

It is difficult to understand why the organs of public opinion in this Dominion are so reticent about publishing the truth of the Spanish war, but it is comforting to know that there are some at least who have the courage to face the sustained attack of Communists and other subversive elements in making known the various massacres perpetrated upon the innocent Spanish people by the Bolshevik armies.

Speaking of the massacres at Castellon and the desolation at Bielsa, Sir Henry says: "I now come to the far more terrible events of Castellon. The massacre, whilst happily not so far reaching as the first cables indicated, was one of the most bestial and wanton in the annals of history. Some 2,000 inhabitants were tempted out of their refuges and homes by the pretended arrival of the Nationalist army on the part of militiamen, who then opened machine-gun fire and threw hand grenades on the crowd of rejoicing civilians—men, women and children—resulting in the annihilation of over 200, and wounding and injuring a far larger number."—"Incendiarism is the order of the day everywhere from Irun to Guernica, from Amorlabeta to Belchite, from Bielsa to the French frontier, and in every town that Nationalist troops enter, the same stories of murder and brutality come to light, and a continuous record of every sacred edifice in ashes or ruin."

It is indeed doubtful if the strength of the Communist Party propaganda could be more clearly demonstrated than by the manner in which public opinion in this country has been led astray in this and other regards (such as the recent unemployed demonstrations, etc.). Surely such evidence of Moscow inspired influence in Canada should spur all responsible citizens on toward a greater effort against the Communist Party of Canada.

Copies of Sir Henry Page Croft's statement together with other literature in limited quantities will be distributed without charge to those requesting the same from the secretary of this organization, 1702 Duchess Street, Victoria, B.C.

THE CATHEDRAL BELLS

Sir,—Mr. Cecil French's letter in a local paper complaining about noises on city streets was quite in order until he flippantly mentioned the Cathedral bells.

The Cathedral bells do not make a noise, they make pleasant sounds, and call not only Anglicans to worship, but those of every other denomination as well.

A Catholic priest, standing outside Christ Church Cathedral when the bells were first rung, remarked it was good to hear the bells ringing, and he thought they would bring all denominations to church services. The priest evidently did not think the bells would be harmful to patients in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Apart from the bells' theological value, they have been of immense interest to tourists, and I doubt whether Mr. French even gave that angle a thought.

Fortunately, I do not hear many of the noises about which Mr. French complains. The church bells have been ringing for centuries and have had a calming effect among the peoples of the world. The modern noises, such as tin cans at weddings, motor "eruptions" and so-called horns which sound to me more like blowing toy balloons, have no value to our citizens or our visitors. Ninety-eight per cent of our people are with Mr. French and Mr. D'Arcy Martin against modern noises, but 99½ per cent want to hear the Cathedral bells.

FINISHED!

Sir,—Your Saturday's editorial under above heading citing from The Calgary Albertan with reference to the Social Credit Government of Alberta, brings to public notice what has for some time been public knowledge, that the control of The Albertan has changed hands. The Albertan has not "lost faith in Social Credit," but its controlling tone is now the voice of "sound finance."

Money talks! To be heard, you have to talk louder than the money put up by the other fellow. The man that pays the piper calls the tune. Change a couple of vowels, you get with equal truth "the man that pays the paper calls the tune." The words finis, finish and finance have the same root and the same root-meaning.

The original meaning of the word "finance" was that when a debt was paid off it was finished. The present meaning of the word "finance" is that our debts cannot be paid off, so we are finished.

The new economics aim at finishing the existing financial system instead of the existing financial system finishing us.

DOVER, England, Aug. 25 (AP).—A German girl swimmer, Bruna Wendel, landed at Shakespeare Cliff, two and one-half miles from Dover, today, and announced she had swum the English Channel in fifteen hours three minutes.

The fastest crossing by a woman swimmer on record was that of Gertrude Ederle, United States, in fourteen hours thirty-four minutes in 1926. Georges Michel, France, holds the record at eleven hours five minutes.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of low water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 18.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

Match-point duplicate players are called upon to make much closer decisions than are required at rubber bridge. At the latter game a broad policy of safety is a winning one. Thus, if vulnerable opponents bid a slam and you cannot be sure whether or not you can defeat it but can be sure that a sacrifice bid by you will not be costly, it is quite logical to take the sacrifice. Perhaps you will lose 100 points, whereas the opponents would have lost 100 or 200 points at their contract. But this is not nearly as important as the possibility that they might have gained 1,500 points by your refusal to go down one trick. At match-point duplicate this "safety first" policy is not effective. There you must strive for the best theoretical results. If, as it turns out, the opponents cannot make their contract, it probably will be fatal for you to take a needless sacrifice. Note how this works out in a situation such as shown below:

East, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

The biddings:

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	2 ♦	Pass	Pass

Under the vulnerability conditions West has a very difficult decision to make when South overcalls with two diamonds. The trouble is that West must decide then and there, whether there is a game in the hand for himself and partner. Because if there isn't, he must not lose the opportunity to double two diamonds. With an original bid by East, and a two diamond overcall by South, West cannot expect any further bidding from the opponents; his own strength making such a contingency improbable. West can certainly expect to defeat a two diamond contract two tricks (300 points) and if his side can make no game the 300 points will be immeasurably superior to any part-score that can be attained. If East-West were not vulnerable, the justifiable hope of defeating the opponents 500 points would make a double highly attractive because, even if a game were in the hand for East-West, it would not count that much.

The vulnerability of East-West, however, makes the decision a split-hair one. West must be haunted by the fear that, in doubling and accepting a penalty of 300 to 500 points, he is abandoning a possible 600 odd points. Yet, for good and sound reasons, the double is the best choice. Surely West cannot pass. If he bids, he must choose between two hearts and two no trump, and neither is quite satisfactory. Two hearts, the strongest free raise West dare give, may not be strong enough to encourage East to bid again; two no trump may go wrong because of the lack of a spade stopper.

There is one other important factor if West doubles, he does not conclusively abandon all chance for game because East may choose to take out the double. But contrariwise, if West bids, he abandons all chance for a double. In the final analysis, it is this consideration that should induce West to double, rather than bid.

the Government intended to take in curbing unemployed activities.

As a partial solution to unemployment among single men, the Premier suggested wider enlistment in Canadian defence forces.

"There is a feeling now in British Columbia in favor of increasing our defence forces," he said. "Under present conditions of unemployment I suggest you enroll more young men in our various defence forces.

"It would be for their own good; not so much from a military standpoint as from the viewpoint it would develop them physically, build up greater personal discipline and strengthen morale."

REVIEWS ACTIVITIES

Reading from a printed record of the last general convention in Vancouver six years ago the Premier dealt briefly with each item of business referring to intentions of the Government.

"How far has the Government gone?" he asked. "It hasn't a 100 per cent batting average, but it has a pretty high average. We have carried out our pledges in spite of difficulties and obstacles.

"We are going forward, steadily but sanely, and we will continue to move forward on that basis."

Discussing currency and credit, Mr. Pattullo said he was in favor of "solid finance—not inflation." But still he felt it was possible to use national credit to a greater extent than heretofore "to meet the needs of the public without decreasing Dominion credit."

He mentioned the need for more roads, more hospitals and university facilities, and other items.

RAILWAY PROBLEM

Mr. Pattullo described efforts he had made to "dispose" of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, operated by the British Columbia Government, to the Dominion Government.

The P.G.E. was in better shape than it had been in the past, paying operating costs, although not returning enough revenue to pay capital costs. The Government would have to continue operation of the road unless the Dominion would absorb it as part of the Canadian National Railways system.

"I am in favor of a sensible immigration policy in British Columbia," he said. Increased population and industrial development in Interior British Columbia would help the P.G.E.

Of "better terms" for municipalities, the Premier told the convention his Government had lifted "millions of dollars" from the tax-burdened shoulders of the municipalities, and it was "not satisfied yet."

PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAMME

In this connection he intended to discuss again with Dominion officials the unemployment problem, and hoped an adequate public works programme might be instituted to help relieve the unemployment burden.

The 1932 convention favored reduction of the eligibility age for old age pensions, but the Government had not been able to find the "millions" necessary for that purpose, the Premier said.

No provincial highway board had been set up, because it was felt the present Public Works Department, under Hon. F. M. MacPherson, was operating efficiently as it stood.

PROMISES CO-OPERATION

Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, told Premier Pattullo that as far as he was concerned, British Columbia could rest assured of the fullest co-operation and assistance from the Dominion Government.

The Minister of National Defence received prolonged applause when he said he knew every Provincial Premier in Canada, and he was proud to say no man in Canada exceeded in ability, integrity and desire for service to the public "British Columbia's own Duff Pattullo."

"With Mr. Pattullo, British Columbia has a very able Cabinet.

"Even so, we (the Dominion Government) have not always been able to co-operate with British Columbia to the fullest extent we might wish," said Mr. Mackenzie. "But, I promise your Prime Minister so far as I am concerned, that the keynote of our relations will be one of assistance and co-operation with British Columbia."

Dr. W. J. Knox, of Kelowna, president of the British Columbia Liberal Association, was in the chair as the convention, the first since October, 1932, opened.

NEW ZEALAND IS DESCRIBED

G. W. Hargreaves Tells Rotarians of the Activities Of Sister Dominion

It was explained to members of the Rotary Club yesterday by G. W. Hargreaves, principal of the Waitaki High School, New Zealand, that the country from which he came was similar in climate to British Columbia in the southern parts and that the northern sections of the islands were somewhat sub-tropical in character. The islands, while narrow in formation, extended for a length of about 1,000 miles, almost directly north and south.

It was therefore to be expected that life differed somewhat markedly throughout the islands, Mr. Hargreaves, accompanied by the part or pupils of the school of which he is principal and who have been attending the school conferences held here this week, were guests of the Rotary Club yesterday. The pupils were greeted personally by the president, G. Hamilton Harman.

ROTARY RECEPTIONS

Mr. Hargreaves told of the warm receptions accorded them by Rotary Clubs on their trip. These included Honolulu, and again in Canada they had been welcomed by the Calgary, the Vancouver and now Victoria clubs.

Auckland was the largest city, with a population of 210,000. The southern island was financially the strongest, but the population was more distributed throughout the country in farm communities, the smaller towns supplying the needs of these communities. New Zealand was essentially a pastoral country and the parts under cultivation were highly tilled. Sheep were raised with exports of wool and frozen mutton and lamb. Butter and cheese were also heavily exported.

FARM ACTIVITIES

The farms were comparatively small, averaging about 150 acres. Farming was carried out in a very scientific way, and the cows were of good dairy breeds. They grew lucerne or alfalfa to some extent, cutting five crops in the northern parts and three in the southern each season. In the matter of wheat, the country grew enough to serve its own needs, but up to the present had to import some hard wheat from Canada to mix with that grown in order to produce good bread.

There was a little mining, but large deposits of hard coal were located there.

In the matter of orchards the trees are kept cut back so that the fruit is more easily gathered. The export of apples was large.

The speaker described the school he represented which had as its head Frank Milliet, rector. The boys came from all parts of the islands. A religious service was held each morning, followed by a discussion of current events. Old boys' associations were maintained throughout the whole country, which kept up a chain of connections between the present and the past students.

Albert Sullivan, inspector of high schools, was also a guest with Mr. Hargreaves. The speaker was introduced by Herbert Pendray, and in turn thanked by President Harman on the conclusion of the address.

BODY OF MAN IS FOUND IN RIVER

Provincial Police Seeking to Identify Remains Taken From Tsolum River

Provincial Police sought identification of the body of a young man lifted from the waters of the Tsolum River yesterday morning, after probable immersion for two or three days. The body was found in the river one mile from Courtenay. No report of a missing person was in the hands of the authorities.

The description was given as follows: Height, five feet eight inches; weight, 170 pounds; apparent age, thirty; fair complexioned, with light reddish hair, and uneven teeth, only four of which remain in front at the upper jaw. The clothing included blue overalls, size 32; brown shirt, size 15, and black Oxford shoes.

SEEKING IDENTITY

So far as the police were aware no person of that description had been reported missing and identification was not forthcoming from persons in the area. The description was circulated by headquarters of the force in an effort to establish the identity of the body.

STORM PROVIDES FUEL

INGERSOLL, Ont., Aug. 25 (CP)—"It's an ill wind . . ." Two weeks ago the worst storm in the history of this district felled hundreds of trees and did other damage. Town officials today, surveying the piles of swept-up branches and trimmings, said enough firewood had been obtained to keep ten families supplied with fuel throughout next Winter.

It's dreadful things that some people will do!
I can't see why anyone loves them, can you?

Poor, poor Mrs. Grouse! Was ever anyone in worse trouble? There she hung by one leg from a wire fastened to a little tree. It was a snare, which, you know, is a kind of trap, and one of the meanest of all traps. Had she poked her head through the little opening in the brush fence she would have been caught by the neck. The little wire loop which had been carefully placed there would have slipped around her neck and choked her to death, and by this time she would have been hanging cold and stiff from a little tree.

It would have been a dreadful way to have life end, but it would have been a quick ending. She would hardly have known what had happened. But she didn't poke her head through that little hoop of wire. Instead, she stepped in another little loop cunningly spread on the snow and now she was hanging head down from that tree which had been bent over and had snapped up straight when she had pulled that little wire around her leg. It had snatched her up in the air with it, the wire cutting into her leg cruelly.

But it wasn't the pain of this from which Mrs. Grouse suffered most. Indeed, she hardly felt it at all. It was the terror of being helpless and wondering what dreadful thing would happen to her. Many, many times had Mrs. Grouse been terribly frightened, for she had had many narrow escapes from those who had hunted her, but with her fright always had been the feeling that she could escape if only she used her wits. Her wits, her legs, and her stout wings she had been free to use exceeding once when she was caught under an icy crust which had formed over her while she slept. That time she had felt something of the same helplessness and hopelessness until Farmer Brown's boy had found her and set her free, and yet it had not been as bad then as now, for under that crust starvation was all she had to fear. None of her enemies could find her there. But now supposing fierce Mr. Goshawk should happen along! Supposing she should hang there until night when Hooty the Owl began hunting. He would be sure to find her. If neither of them found her she might hang there until she starved to death, or, worse still, the terrible creature who had set that snare should find her.

Poor Mrs. Grouse! She beat her stout wings until she was so tired that she could hardly move them, but all it did was to tighten that wire around her leg. Big tears filled her eyes as she hung her head down panting for breath. The Jolly Little Sunbeams came stealing through the Green Forest, making it very beautiful in its cloak of pure white snow. But there was no beauty in it for Mrs. Grouse. They found her hanging there, and then they stole away from that place, for there was nothing they could do to help, and they couldn't, they just couldn't lend of their brightness to a place where such a terrible thing had happened. Mrs. Grouse closed her eyes. She couldn't bear to look out on this little part of her world where she had been so happy in spite of all its dangers.

"What can I do? What can I do?" she moaned.

"There is nothing you can do," replied a voice.

She opened her eyes. There, looking up at her, was Reddy Fox, and although there was hunger and longing in his eyes, there was also sorrow and pity.

The Up-Islanders will be at full strength for the fixture, and hope to pick up two points at the expense of the Victoria side. Both matches will commence at 2:15 o'clock.

Attractive Wedding at Centennial

The Centennial United Church was the scene of a pretty Summer wedding last evening at 8 o'clock, when Rev. William Allan officiated at the marriage of Ethel Lauraine, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Goldie, Broadway Avenue, and Mr. Ernest Albert Underwood, son of Major E. B. Underwood and Mrs. Underwood, 400 Gorge Road.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in a white lace princess gown, with a cowl neckline and short bolero with long sleeves. Her long veil of embroidered tulle was held in place by silver clasps and clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and swansonia.

BRIDE'S ATTENDANTS

Mrs. L. Underwood, sister-in-law of the groom, was the matron of honor, in a becoming gown of frilled pearl net over peach taffeta, featuring a very full skirt, and from the short bolero jacket, long blue ribbons fell gracefully to the hemline. She carried a sheaf of Picardy gladioli and crimson antirrhinums. Miss Mena Underwood, sister of the groom, attended as bridesmaid in a lovely gown of pink frilled chiffon, with bolero to match and a blue ribbon sash, and she carried a sheaf of Picardy gladioli and blue delphiniums. Both wore shoulder veils of blue net, caught to their heads with bandeaux of forget-me-nots. Mr. Leslie Underwood was the best man, and the ushers were Jack Goldie and Harvey Plaxton. During the signing of the register Mr. Arthur Jackson sang "Because," accompanied by Mr. O. Stout, who also played the wedding marches.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in Alex's Hall, Burnside Road, where the guests were received by Mrs. Goldie, wearing a grey silk French gown with maroon trimmings and matching accessories. Her corsage bouquet was composed of red roses. Mrs. Underwood, who also received, wore a becoming navy and blue lace gown with matching accessories, and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses. A three-tier wedding cake centred the bride's table, on which stood a miniature bride and groom, decorated with silver vases filled with rosebuds.

LEAVE FOR MAINLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Underwood left at midnight for Vancouver and will visit on the Mainland before returning to make their home on Broadway Avenue. For going away the bride wore a smart tailored suit of Oxford grey, a white blouse and accessories in British tan.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. Leonard, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. A. Schmiltz, of Portland, and Mrs. H. Howson, of Seattle.

GOLF ENTRIES CLOSE TODAY

Strong List of Shotmakers Expected for Annual City Championship

With many more entries expected than in recent years a strong field has signified its intentions of teeing off in the annual city golf championship at the Oak Bay links, commencing with the thirty-six-hole qualifying round on Sunday. The entry list closes this evening at 5 o'clock, after which the draw will be made and released for publication. Competitors may have the free privilege of playing over the course today and after 3:30 tomorrow, it was announced.

Topping the list of shotmakers will be none other than Jimmy Todd, Victoria's great southpaw club swinger, who will be going in search of his fifth successive championship. Todd just returned from the Canadian amateur at London, Ontario, when he shot his way into the quarter-finals before being eliminated.

The sixteen low scorers will form the championship, and match play will start on September 3 and continue until Labor Day, when the two survivors will clash over the thirty-six-hole distance for the title. The Oak Bay Club has arranged a special competition this year for those wishing to play only eighteen holes in the medal round. Qualifiers in this division will meet in a special flight.

The prize list this year is much bigger and better than usual. The array of silverware and other awards are now on display in the windows of W. & J. Wilson's store, Government Street.

Household Training Class Holds Closing Exercises

The closing exercises of the household training course, organized jointly by the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training Committee and the Y.W.C.A., were held yesterday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. Dr. Olga Jardine presided, and congratulated the girls of the present group on having successfully completed their six months of training in academic and practical work.

The girls do not earn their graduation certificates until they have been employed satisfactorily for three months, and the girls of the previous course returned yesterday to be awarded their certificates. These were presented by Dr. Jardine to Dorothy Field, Evelyn Graham, Mary Hamill, Dorothy Hill, Delcia Leith, Eileen Maurice and Irene Robbins. The girls qualifying for positions from the present class were Mary Bombardier, Margaret Boyle, Joan Bayliss, Helen Cudmore, Gertrude Dixon, Elva Ferguson, Marie Gillespy, Doreen Harte, Marguerite Hocking and Edna Taylor.

Col. F. T. Fairey spoke to the girls on the dignity and importance of the profession they had chosen, reminding them that a well-run home smoothed the wheels of the business of living. The girls had had all the training to help them to do their job well—it was up to them to put their ideals into practice.

PRESENT PRIZES

Prizes were presented to the girls of the present class for progress and general proficiency. The prize donated by the B.C. Electric Company for proficiency in the use of electrical equipment, and the best essay on that subject, was presented by Miss Codd, of the B.C. Electric home service department, to Miss Elva Ferguson. An interesting fact in connection with this presentation was that Elva's sister, Bernice won the same prize when she took the training course three years ago. The other two prizes, presented by Miss Clarke on behalf of the Department of Education, went to Miss Mary Bombardier for the greatest progress in her work throughout the course, and the prize for general proficiency and perfect attendance went to Miss Marjorie Kerslake.

Dr. Jardine paid a tribute to the very efficient work of the instructors, Miss Evelyn Clarke and Mrs. Pretty, matron of the practice house, and to the co-operation of various other individuals and firms in making the course a success, notably the assistance given by the B.C. Electric Company.

After the presentation of diplomas and prizes, tea was served in the attractively-arranged clubroom. The girls entertained their mothers and frinds as guests, and prepared and served tea themselves, looking most attractive in their pretty yellow uniforms. The guests were welcomed by Dr. Jardine, and Mrs. Kyrle Symons poured tea.

Invitations are being extended to Government, civic and church officials, the church members and the public.

The committee in charge of arrangements comprises Rev. John E. Bell, Mesdames R. W. Mayhew, A. S. Christie, Miss M. Loudoun, Miss H. M. Simpson, and E. S. Farr, G. Peaker, W. C. Fyfe, J. A. Heritage, J. Strang, R. Matthews, N. Perry, J. W. Gibson and G. McGregor.

Father Wood; diocesan organizer and convener of publicity, Mrs. William McManus and Mrs. Ebbs-Canavan, visited the Up-Island subdivisions of the Catholic Women's League at Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Cobble Hill-Shawnigan Lake.

BRINGS GREETINGS

At Nanaimo, the national president and party were welcomed by Rev. Father L. McLellan, with whom they were luncheon guests at St. Ann's Convent, where they were received by Sister Mary Esther, formerly of Victoria, and were much interested in meeting Rev. Father John Knox, S.J., and Rev. Father C. T. Albury, of Comox. Following the luncheon, Mrs. Hay addressed a representative meeting of the Nanaimo sub-division in the convent parlor, discussing matters of interest to the membership and bringing greetings from Bishop G. C. Murray, of Saskatoon, and Archbishop J. H. MacDonald, of Edmonton. Rev. Father McLellan introduced Mrs. Hay, who was thanked by Mrs. Edge-Partington, the president of the Nanaimo League, for her splendid address. Mrs. Hay and her party were presented with lovely corsage bouquets on behalf of the membership. Before leaving the district, the visitors were taken to see the new chapel now under construction at Lantzville, which is a memorial to the late national secretary, Margaret Jones, from the C.W.L. of Canada.

Mrs. Hay was greeted at Ladysmith by Rev. Father A. J. McLellan and was introduced to Mrs. A. Nonn and members of the Ladysmith League at a meeting held in the Assembly Hall of the Convent of Our Lady of Perpetual Help. Afternoon tea was served, under the convenership of Mrs. McDonnell, at prettily appointed tables, and Mrs. Hay's address was found of particular interest, together with the introductory by Rev. Father Wood. The visitors were received by Sister N. Cammill, Superior of the Sisters of Charity, and her staff.

At Cobble Hill, members of the sub-division there and Shawnigan Lake assembled at the home of Mrs. P. A. O. Leask, who, with the president, Mrs. Samuelson, and the executive, received the national president and party. In her address, Mrs. Hay outlined the basic programme for the term of her presidency and answered many questions on general policy and constitutional points.

LOCAL SUB-DIVISIONS

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Hay met again the members of the Victoria and district sub-divisions at Our Lady Queen of Peace Church, Esquimalt, together with the newly formed sub-division of Langford. This meeting was a round-table conference of much interest, and, at its close, Rev. Father Wood entertained Mrs. Hay, Mrs. Munsie, Mrs. W. McManus and Miss Betty Munsie at tea.

The diocesan president and executive regretted that lack of time prevented their visiting the sub-division at Port Alberni, and Father Kennedy's church and parish at Qualicum.

Anniversaries Marked at Skinner-Wratten Wedding

St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Church was filled last night with friends of the bride and groom for the marriage of Florence Rosalind (Rose), youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wratten, 351 Ker Avenue, and Mr. Owen William Thomas Skinner, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Skinner, North Park Street, which was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. Canon Stocken Officiating.

The pretty bride, who was given away by her father, wore a floor-length frock of white satin with long sleeves, and a filmy veil arranged beneath a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses, sweet peas and carnations.

Miss Lillian Sadler, the maid of honor, was dressed in orchid silk voile, and Miss Winnie Thompson, the bridesmaid, was in pale blue satin. They both wore Juliet caps of net and carried bouquets of blending flowers.

Acting as flower girls were Myrtle Wratten, niece of the bride, in a Kate Greenaway frock of pale yellow flat crepe, and Olive Jackson in sea green, and both wore floral bandeaux in their hair and carried Victorian posies of mixed flowers. Mr. Joe Skinner supported his brother, and escorting the guests to pews, marked with sprigs of lavender statice and white tulle, were Mr. Arnold Wratten, brother of the bride, and Mr. Jack Dick.

Mrs. W. Gilbert played the wedding marches, and as the register was being signed Mrs. N. Bertucci sang "Because." A lovely assortment of late Summer flowers and ferns had been arranged in the church, with gladioli predominating, and during the service the bride and groom stood between baskets of asters and gallliardia.

A largely-attended reception was held after the service in the church hall, which had been beautifully decorated with a profusion of pink and white flowers, during which the bride and groom stood beneath a floral arch and bell between baskets of flowers. Mrs. Wratten was wearing a becoming frock of bright-hued floral sheer on a white back-ground, and Mrs. Skinner, Sr., navy blue silk. They both wore white accessories and corsage bouquets of carnations.

In the centre of the supper table, which was decorated with vases of pink sweet peas, stood the three-tiered bride's cake, and at one end was placed a single-tiered iced cake in honor of the silver wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents, and the seventh anniversary of the marriage of the bride's brother, Mr. J. F. Wratten, Jr., which had both taken place on August 25.

After a honeymoon in the United States, for which the bride left in a navy blue and white outfit, Mr. and Mrs. Skinner will return to Victoria and make their home at the Gorge.

LEFT BEHIND

Mistress (engaging maid): Have you any references?

For Bride to Be

Mrs. F. A. Rounding, 1392 Rockland Avenue, entertained at the tea hour yesterday, afternoon in honor of Miss Audrey Tooley, whose marriage is to take place next week. The affair took the form of a towel shower, the gifts being presented in an enormous pink and blue slipper, trimmed with sweet peas and roses, the clue to the hiding place being ingeniously arranged. The drawing-room, where the gifts were opened, was beautiful with dahlias, sweet peas and asters, and the tea table in the dining-room, with Mrs. B. Frith and Mrs. G. P. Clarke at the urns, had an exquisite arrangement of pink roses, sweet peas and gypsophilia, with lighted pink tapers at each side, and diminutive bridal couples placed about among the bon-bon dishes. EXPORT LUMBER

A large increase in the volume of water-borne shipments of lumber from Pacific Northwest ports during July, as compared with the previous month, is revealed in the July, 1938, report of the Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau, Inc.

The gain is largely accounted for by the splendid showing made by British Columbia. The combined ports of British Columbia, Puget Sound, Grays Harbor and Willapa Harbor, Columbia River and Oregon Coast, shipped a total of 122,997,481 board feet of lumber during July. In June of this year the aggregate for these ports amounted to 108,181,437 board feet.

Classification by ports during July was as follows: British Columbia, 104,183,219; Puget Sound, 7,932,448; Grays Harbor and Willapa Harbor, 1,775,717; Columbia River, 8,774,182; Oregon Coast, 331,915. Gains in the water-borne shipments of lumber from British Columbia during the past month, as against June of this year, were recorded in nine markets. These included Australia, Belgium, China, France, India, Italy, Manchukuo, United Kingdom and West Indies.

MODAVIA DOCKED

Landing general cargo from Europe and citrus fruits and bananas from California and Central America, the Donaldson Line freighter Ms. Modavia was alongside Rithet Piers overnight and continued to Vancouver after shipments for local consignees were discharged.

JAPANESE WHALER

Bringing to an end an eventful Antarctic expedition, the giant whaling vessel, Nishin Maru No. 2, 17,555 tons, arrived in Yokohama late last month, nearly ten months after it left its home port of Kobe on October 14, last year. The ship is owned by the Oceanic Whaling Company. During a period of four months the Japanese fleet caught no less than 1,296 whales in the Antarctic Sea. It competed with more than thirty other expeditions. Touching at Rotterdam on its way home, the vessel sold 16,800 tons of whale oil. Fifty tons of whale flesh and 185 tons of pickled stuff, as well as a great amount of whale skin, were landed in Japan.

"Authors vary greatly in the methods they employ to commit their ideas to paper," observed a man in the train.

"Yes," replied an elderly gentleman, "some of them seem to be using a tripe-writer."

RIVER FISHING SEASON CLOSED

Plea of Cannery Operators For Three-Day Extension Is Rejected

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 25 (AP).—The Columbia River fishing season closed today despite efforts of eight salmon packers to obtain a three-day extension from the Oregon and Washington Fish Commissioners.

B. M. Brennen, director of Washington State fisheries, advised an extension was impossible because of an obligation to the Federal Government to restock Columbia tributaries on the northern side.

The packers said they acted because of the heavy August run of salmon which has entered the river in the past few hours. In some cases, catches have been boosted to more than 3,000 pounds per boat.

Pointing out that the runs previously all have been light this year, the packers invited members of the two commissions to send representatives to observe the catch. The packers promised, however, to suspend fishing immediately should the commissions desire it.

LINE OFFICIALS BECOME ALARMED

Plague of Stowaways on Atlantic Ships Cause of Appeal to New York Police

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP).—Alarmed by a recent plague of stowaways in trans-Atlantic liners, officials of the French lines have appealed to New York police to aid dock police in breaking what they suspect to be "a stowaway ring," engaged in sending unemployed Americans abroad to fight in Spain.

When the Normandie reached Havre on her last eastward trip fourteen stowaways were turned over to harbor police. Of these seven said they wanted to join the International Brigade in Government Spain, according to a company official. Seven ocean hobos were discovered on the Isle de France which sailed last week.

Nascopie Reaches Northerly Point On Arctic Voyage

CHURCHILL, Man., Aug. 25 (CP).—R.M.S. Nascopie, Government supply ship, arrived at Thule, Greenland, most northerly point reached on her Eastern Arctic trip, last night, and left today for Arctic Bay and then Fort Ross, from where she will head south for Halifax.

Arctic Bay is fifty miles south from Entrance, on the east coast of Admiralty Inlet, Baffin Island. Fort Ross is at the eastern entrance to Ballot Strait, at the north end of Somerset Island.

The Nascopie is nearly a week ahead of schedule. It reports ice well broken up and no trouble getting through.

JAPANESE FISHERMEN ALL PLEADED GUILTY

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP).—Thirteen Japanese pleaded guilty in Provincial Police court today to a charge of fishing for salmon with gill nets without obtaining licences for the area in which they were operating. Each was fined $25 and costs.

The thirteen boats were seized Wednesday by the Federal fisheries patrol in Howe Sound.

POLICE INVESTIGATING

TURNED INTO HUMAN TORCH

Launch Occupant Saved From Serious Burning By Prompt Action

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP).—Prompt action by J. C. Rawson, dock owner, saved Ernest De Ridder from serious injury here last night when the explosion of a gasoline lamp turned its owner into a human torch. De Ridder was treated at hospital for burns about the face, neck and hands after the accident.

Stan, a big dog owned by De Ridder, attempted to help his master by striking his blazing clothing with his paws and barking a loud alarm.

The pilot house of the gas boat was badly damaged before the flames were extinguished by the dock owner after he had first put out the fire on De Ridder's clothing.

HANDLED BIGGER SOCKEYE CATCH

B.C. Canneries Put Up 45,130 More Cases Than During Last Four-Year Cycle Period

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP). — Canned salmon packed to date in British Columbia this year totals 749,832 cases, according to the weekly salmon bulletin issued by Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries. This is an increase of 57,062 cases over the corresponding period in the four-year cycle, when 692,770 cases were handled.

Sockeye shows an increase of 45,130 cases, jumping from 245,198 cases in 1934 to 290,328 cases this year. Springs, however, show a decrease, dropping from 16,935 cases in 1934, to 11,934 cases in 1938.

Chums were the only other class of salmon to show an increase. Total number of cases to date this year is 61,262, as compared with 23,594 four years ago.

That Body of Yours
by JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PREVENTING FORMATION OF KIDNEY STONES

As students we were taught about stones in the kidney or in the tube going from kidney to bladder, or in the tube from bladder to outside the body. They caused severe colicky pains, and morphine must be used to ease the pain and relax the tissues surrounding the stone. If stones were small they would pass out themselves, if large, blocking openings and causing intense pain, they should be removed by operation.

Today physicians are not content to simply treat kidney stone colic and remove large stones, but are studying the causes of these stones and how best to prevent these stones from forming. According, what is called "The Stone Clinic" was organized over a year ago at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Dr. Fuller Albright, in The New England Medical Journal, says:

"The Stone Clinic represents an effort to learn more about the prevention of kidney stones by a combined study of the problem by the internist or general physician, the chemist, and the urinologist (specialist in kidney and bladder disease). There are undoubtedly many factors which influence the formation of stones—stasis (sluggish circulation), infection (from various parts of the body), lack of or insufficient amount of vitamins, lack of colloids (matter or substance in a glue-like condition), excess of crystalloids (matter or substance in a crystal form) in the urine, and so forth."

The thought, then, in investigating stones is that a urine of a certain composition precipitates or manufactures a stone composed largely of the substances thrown down by or precipitated by this certain type of urine—cystine stone, uric acid stone, calcium phosphate stone. This being the case, then, medical treatment consists in trying to reduce the manufacture of the substances forming the stone by the urine, or to try to change the composition of the urine so as to keep the substances solvent or in a more liquid condition and thus prevent them forming a solid stone.

The first step in the treatment is to find out the type of stone that is present. If there is no material—sand or fine gravel—that can be examined, the X-ray, diet or eating habits, the composition of the urine and size of stones may offer some evidence as to the kind of stones present.

Dr. Albright states that taking large amounts of fluids is ideal treatment for all kinds of stone. This keeps material in fluid state and has a flushing-out effect.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 25 (CP).—Seagulls and other scavenger birds have gorged themselves to the full on grasshoppers here during the past week. The hoppers have been piled inches deep along the lakeshore, washed in from the centre of Lake Ontario.

How to Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores or any druggist a package of Hem-roid and use as directed. This formula which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hem-roid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost. (Advt.)

Punching out three base knocks, two doubles and a single, in the ninth inning and scoring two runs, House of David ball-tossers last night came from behind to eke out a 6-5 victory over the African Zulu Giants, in the third and final fixture of the three-game exhibition series played at the Royal Athletic Park. It was the second straight triumph for the Davidians and gave them the series two games to one.

The encounter was easily one of the best seen at the Caledonia Avenue ball lot for many a day, and the sparkling catches in the outer gardens and the brilliant infield plays gained the well-merited applause of the fans. Two homers were crashed out, with Lulu, elongated first sacker of the Giants, and Breedlove, husky fly shagger of the Davidans, sharing the honors.

After four scoreless innings and really fast ball, the grass-skirted boys opened the scoring in their half of the fifth frame when they laced out four safeties, including Lulu's circuit drive, and sent three runners scampering across the home plate.

Davidans crashed the scoring column in the very next frame on a single, a double, two pilfered sacks and an error by Prince Rusto, doing the catching for the Giants.

KNUCREDI YANKED

Knucredi started on the mound for the losers, but was yanked in the sixth after Ewing punched out a single and Saunders followed with a double, and Dea, speedball hurler, who really fires the ball down the alley, was called in from left field to do the hurling. He made a grand start, striking out the first two batters and forcing the third man to ground out.

Giants came back with a pair of markers in their half of the sixth to take a 5-2 lead. However, their scoring finished right there and the Davidans, really fighting up hill, gradually sliced their opponents' lead. They added a run in the seventh, another in the eighth and two more in the ninth.

Stockard, the first man up in the last inning, crossed the plate with the tying run. With one man down and Ewing on third base by virtue of a double and a wild pitch by Dea, Saunders came up and hammered out a two-base blow and scored what proved to be the deciding marker.

PITCHES GOOD BALL

Williams, House of David moundsman, pitched nice ball, bumping into trouble twice, in the fifth and sixth innings, when the Giants bagged their five runs. Grass-skirted boys bunched six of their seven hits in those two frames and collected their only other safety in the opening stanza. Williams fanned four, striking out Jon and Butro in the final inning to end the ball game.

Davidans nicked Knucredi for six bingles and two runs during his five-inning stay on the hillock. Dea, his successor, gave up seven base knocks in four frames and four runs were scored off his offerings. He breezed eight.

Two double plays were made, with the House of David boys making both plays.

The score by innings follows:

	R	H	E
House of David	000 002 112	6	13	3
Zulu Giants	000 032 000	5	7	3

Batteries: Williams and McCray, Knucredi, Dea and Gracia, Rusto.

Pedro Montanez Scores Knockout

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (CP).—Pedro Montanez strengthened his claim as No. 1 challenger for the lightweight boxing championship of the world by scoring a decisive five-round technical knockout victory over Orville Drouillard, of Windsor, Ont., at Madison Square Garden.

Drouillard weighed 137 pounds to 138¾ for the Puerto Rican.

The Canadian veteran was grasping the ropes in his tired hands, trying to raise himself to his feet after a vicious volley of rights and lefts to the head, when Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the fight after two minutes and fourteen seconds of the fifth round. The bout was scheduled for ten rounds.

The Windsor scrapper had gone along practically on his heart after a nine-count knockdown in the third.

UPSETS ARE FEATURE OF BANFF GOLF

Many Ranking Shotmakers Eliminated During Second Round Matches

BANFF SPRINGS, Alta., Aug. 25.—Giants toppled like tall cedars in a gale as second-round matches today put the Prince of Wales competition, featured event of Banff's Golf Week, into the quarter-final stage.

Stuart Heatley, former California amateur champion from San Francisco, dropped out of the running, 3 and 2, to J. A. Mackay, Medicine Hat, who fired a steady 77 at him, and Banff's Charlie Reid upset Alvin "Ike" Hobles, King City, California, after a twenty-one-hole thriller. J. F. Breuil, a scrambler from Buffalo, N.Y., and Frederick W. "Fritz" Nicolls, of Reading, Pa., joined six Canadians for tomorrow's quarter-finals. Breuil defeated the highly-regarded G. T. Waldref, Stillwater, Minn., one up, and Nicolls defeated Stan Howard, Lethbridge, yesterday's Willingdon Cup winner, two up.

MACWILLIAMS WINS

Gordon MacWilliams, Calgary's long hitter kept in the running with a handy 4 and 2 win over W. J. Gilbert, Mount Vernon, Wash. Don MacKenzie, Calgary, defeated W. G. B. Dailley, Calgary, 3 and 2, and L. S. Crosby, Banff, defeated Jim McMullen, Vancouver, 3 and 2.

MacWilliams steadied after a shaky start, to par and birdie his way home. Hobles and Reid, however wagered the day's feature match. At the twentieth, Reid chipped over a four-foot stymie into the cup and Hobles lost at the twenty-first when his tee shot found the woods. Stan Howard was one down to Nicolls at the seventeenth and lost his chance to square it when he was in the woods off the tee and accidently moved his ball in trying to clear from the rough.

Two Americans and two Canadians squared away for semi-finals of the Brewster competition as Mrs. F. B. Ross, Kalispell, Montana, Monday's medalist, won, 5 and 3, from Mrs. T. H. Lonsdale, Banff. The winner, held at odds of 7 to 4, finished two lengths ahead of E. Harmsworth's His Highness, a 20-to-1 shot. Three-quarters of a length back was Belle Travers, owned by T. Lant.

CELLAR SQUAD WINS TWICE TO CUT LEAD OF PITTSBURGH NINE

Defeat Slices Margin Over Giants to Four and a Half Games—Cincy Reds Drop Pair to Boston Bees—Yankees Trim Cleveland Twice—Red Sox Chalk Up Double Victory

The swaying Pirate brig grounded on a Philadelphia sandbar yesterday, the National League leading Buccaneers dropping two games to the suddenly-vicious cellar occupants by the identical scores of 2-1, the second contest going eleven innings.

As a result, New York climbed to within four and one-half games of first place, by beating the Cards.

Impatient, no doubt, about the lack of activity at bat by their favorites, some of the 11,907 lady customers, a record free entry crowd, went into action themselves late in the nightcap. During the scuffling one woman took off her shoes, swinging them until a neighbor snatched and hurled them into right field.

The New York Giants were handed a "charity" run in the eleventh inning to nose out the Cardinals, 8-7, and climb within four and a half games of the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League race.

Pee-Wee Roy Henshaw, who entered the game in the tenth, walked the first batter, made an error on the second hitter's easy grounder, and then saw the deciding run tally on two outfield flies.

The Cubs nipped the Brooklyn Dodgers in both ends of a double-header, 3-2 and 5-4 to climb back into a tie for third place in the National League race. Bill Lee tossed a four-hitter and fanned six in the opener.

REDS BEATEN TWICE

The Reds blew another chance to get into second place by dropping both ends of a double-header to the Boston Bees, the first in twelve innings. The scores were 6-4 and 3-2. The loss left the Reds tied with Chicago for third.

The Yankees put the crusher on the Indians. Before 40,692 fans, the American League leaders swept a double-header, 5-2 and 15-3.

Lefty Gomez bested Earl Whitehill in a duel of left-handers in the opener to win his fourteenth triumph of the season, and Red Ruffing hung up No. 18 as he breezed home in the nightcap behind an eleven-hit barrage, which included the year's twenty-fifth home runs for Bill Dickey and Joe DiMaggio.

The Athletics split a double-header with the St. Louis Browns, losing the first game, 8-5, in thirteen innings, and winning the second, 4-1. In the nightcap Buck Ross pitched a five-hitter.

The Red Sox tightened their grip on second place by taking two games from the Chicago White Sox, a 1-0 pitching duel and a 9-5 struggle, in which the teams piled up thirty hits.

The Washington Senators, collecting twelve hits for twenty-three bases off Southpaw Harry Eisenstat, tightened their hold on fourth place by defeating the Detroit Tigers, 8-2.

Montreal Ice Team Suspends Operations For 1938-39 Season

Maroons Will Not Compete in National Hockey League for First Time in Years—Players to Be Disposed of, With Canadiens Favored

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (CP).—Thomas P. Gorman, fiery boss of Montreal Maroons, went to bat tonight for his bitter intra-city rivals and announced he would co-operate in trying to give the Canadiens the most powerful team in the National Hockey League.

Tommy's gesture followed acceptance by the league's board of governors at a special meeting today to an application by the Maroons to suspend operations for one year and dispose of the players as the management saw fit.

Gorman, who will continue as manager of the Montreal Forum, home rink of both Maroons and Canadiens, indicated the Flying Frenchmen would be favored in the disposition of players. It is not expected any of the twenty-five players owned by the Maroons will be sold outright.

As a result of the temporary suspension of the franchise, the N.H.L. will operate with seven teams during the 1938-39 season. No official statement was forthcoming, but it was generally understood the league would function as one group with the first four teams qualifying for Stanley Cup players.

Before approving of the "breather" for the Maroons, the governors rejected the club's application to transfer its franchise to St. Louis under option. This arrangement would have given the Reconstruction Investment Company of St. Louis the right to buy the club within three years.

During the past two seasons the Maroons have suffered heavy financial losses, and in 1937-38 the club finished last in the Canadian division.

HEARTS AND CLYDE CLASH IN FEATURE

Several Important Matches Carded in Scottish Football League Saturday

GLASGOW, Aug. 25 (CP).—Third week of the Scottish Football League schedule closes this Saturday with a number of even contests carded. Main interest is centred on Clyde and Hearts—only clubs of the twenty-team circuit to capture maximum points in three previous contests.

Celtic and Partick Thistle, with two victories each in three attempts, met snags in mid-week contests. The Celts opened the season by thumping Kilmarnock, 9-1, and in the return game on Wednesday the Killies held the champions to a scoreless draw. The Thistles were blanked 3-0 at Aberdeen.

Clyde has stiff opposition at Falkirk this week. The Brockville Park Club, a tough team to beat either at home or away, have shown lots of class during the past two seasons and are included among championship contenders.

The Edinburgh club goes to Glasgow to meet Partick, and Hearts' supporters confidently expect the invaders to break the Thistles' unbeaten record. It is one of the four-star attractions on the card. Aberdeen, strong North of Scotland entry, visits Celtic.

MEETS RANGERS

Another tight battle is scheduled for Paisley, where St. Mirrens and Glasgow Rangers meet. The Saints, rarely to the front in the leadership race, have a knack of upsetting pre-game dope when pitted against superior clubs.

Raith and Albion Rovers, up from the Second Division, have each lost two games and won one. Raith has a tough proposition at Glasgow against Third Lanark, and Albion visits Ayr United who fell 3-1 to Raith earlier this week.

The schedule winds up with matches billed between Arbroath and Hamilton Academicals, Hibernians and Queen of South, Motherwell and Kilmarnock, and St. Johnstone and the league's only amateur club, Queens Park.

ALCOCK RE-ELECTED AS FOOTBALL HEAD

Ralph Alcock was re-elected president of the Intermediate Football League at the annual meeting held last night in The Colonist board room. Charlie Jones was voted in as vice-president, and Fred Oliver was reappointed as secretary. The executive committee will be as follows: F. Bossom, F. Collier and M. McCaig. Entries for the league will close on September 15. All the annual reports were tendered and adopted as satisfactory.

Trapshooter Sets New U.S. Record

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 25 (AP).—Joe Hiestand, of Hillsboro, O., set an unprecedented grand American trapshooting record today as he broke 900 targets in a row—a perfect score for the entire sixteen-yard programme. Since he broke sixty-six consecutively in a Yorklyn, Del., shoot, his total of successive perfect shots reached 966.

PROFESSIONAL BALL SQUADS TO PLAY HERE

Vancouver and Tacoma Will Open Three-Game Series Next Thursday

PROFESSIONAL baseball returns to Victoria next week with the appearance of the Vancouver Maple Leafs and the Tacoma Tigers for a three-game league series at the Royal Athletic Park. The fixtures will be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Games on the first two days will commence at 5:30 o'clock, with the final game of the series to start at 2 o'clock.

Victoria Baseball Association officials yesterday placed their signatures to the contract calling for the visit here of the Leafs and the Tigers, members of the Western International League. The series was arranged following many conferences with league officials and owners of the two clubs.

Vancouver and Tacoma performed here last year and attracted large turnouts. The games were arranged by the anniversary celebration committee and were one of the highlights of the extensive programme of sport activities.

With prospects of enlarging the Western International League to eight clubs in 1939, Victoria is being considered as a new entry, and the support accorded the Vancouver-Tacoma series will give the league officials something to work on when the matter is discussed at the annual meeting of the Western International Baseball League.

Interest in the diamond pastime has shown a big increase this season, and judging by the way the fans have been turning out for exhibition games with touring clubs and teams from the Mainland and Washington, the game is on the road to regaining a permanent spot in the city's Summer sports calendar.

NEW TRACK RECORD

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP).—Bud Gano, owned by Louis Mack, of Hamilton, Ont., broke the track record for colts in harness races at Central Canada Exhibition here by reeling off the second heat of the $550 three-year-old race in 2:10½ yesterday. Gid Litt was in the sulky. This was the fastest mile by any colt in Canada this year.

ESQUIMALT A.A. MEETS TONIGHT

The board of directors of the Esquimalt Athletic Association has called a meeting for this evening at its headquarters at 8:30. L. DeCosta will occupy the chair. All senior members are also invited to attend as well as others interested in the club. Important business matters will be brought up for discussion.

NANAIMO SQUAD HERE SATURDAY

Up-Island Stickhandlers to Oppose Conservatives at Royal Athletic Park

Victors over the James Bay stickhandlers in the local play-downs, Manager Corness' Conservatives, senior boxla aggregation, will oppose Fletcher Bros., Nanaimo, tomorrow evening at the Royal Athletic Park in an inter-city exhibition match. The face-off is set for 5:30 o'clock, and followers of the gutted stick game should see plenty of action.

Playing in the senior league at Nanaimo the music house men finished at the top of the standings and received a bye in the post-season play-downs. They are reported to have a well-balanced squad and should provide plenty of stiff opposition for the Conservatives.

Manager Corness has had his boys in training for the past week and feels confident his proteges can take the measure of the Nanaimo squad just as easily as they did the Bays in the Victoria play-offs.

Conservatives team will be chosen from the following: A. Coleman, G. Corness, A. Troughton, R. Baker, J. McSween, G. Coleman, Entwhistle, T. Carney, H. Rowe, P. Foster, R. Peebles, D. Hodgkinson, S. Johnson, M. Maggs, W. Mair, R. Singleton, J. Skellern and A. Reid.

EXCELLENT CAST IS IN "GATEWAY"

Don Ameche and Arleen Whelan Are Co-Starred in Dramatic Hit at Dominion

The dramatic hit, "Gateway," will open today at the Dominion Theatre, with Don Ameche and Arleen Whelan co-starred, and Gregory Ratoff, Binnie Barnes, Gilbert Roland, Raymond Walburn and John Carradine featured. Maurice Moscovich, Harry Carey, Marjorie Gateson and Lyle Talbot are included in the cast. Alfred Werker directed the film for Associate Producer Samuel G. Engel.

In "Gateway," dramatic story of the most dramatic spot in the world, Ellis Island, Ameche brushes aside all obstacles to win the hand and heart of flame-haired Arleen Whelan, Twentieth Century-Fox's sensational new star discovery.

ATLAS THEATRE Thrills, heart throbs, boyish loyalties and regeneration are the dramatic elements in "Lord Jeff," which teams Freddie Bartholomew and Mickey Rooney at the Atlas Theatre. The picture definitely marks an advance in the careers of these boys who enact touching roles as juvenile seamen.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Heading the cast supporting Charles Starrett in "Cattle Raiders" at the Columbia Theatre are Donald Grayson, singing buckaroo; Iris Meredith, Dick Curtis, Allen Brook, and the Sons of the Pioneers musical quintette. Sam Nelson directed the picture from Joseph F. Poland's and Ed Earl Repp's screen play.

OAK BAY THEATRE Although Clarence Muse, famous negro screen actor, stage actor and composer, has what critics pronounce one of America's finest speaking and singing voices, his role in "The Count of Monte Cristo" at the Oak Bay Theatre does not permit him to utter a sound. He plays All, the mute, in this filmization of the Alexandre Dumas novel.

PLAZA THEATRE Quiet competence is usually a long time asserting itself, and that may help explain the slow, if certain, rise to stardom of John Loder, Gaumont's most tested and most constant leading man, who has a leading role in "Non-Stop New York," now playing at the Plaza Theatre.

AMUSEMENTS

— On the Screen

Atlas—"Lord Jeff," starring Freddie Bartholomew.

Capitol—Alice Faye in "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Columbia—"Cattle Raiders," starring Charles Starrett.

Dominion—Don Ameche in "Gateway."

Oak Bay—"The Count of Monte Cristo," starring Robert Donat.

Plaza—Anna Lee in "Non-Stop New York."

MELODIC FILM IS HELD OVER HERE

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" Will Show for Another Three Days At the Capitol

"Alexander's Ragtime Band," while not a musical, does go through the past three decades in a dramatic story of our times—and in no more completely comprehensive manner can this be done than by the songs which captured the ever-changing tempo, kindling fond memories enriched by Irving Berlin's melodies.

Irving Berlin's "Alexander's Ragtime Band" has been held over, through popular demand, and which will show for three more days at the Capitol Theatre, is hailed as Darryl F. Zanuck's greatest dramatic production, starring Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SUMMER SUNSETS

Silhouettes against the sunset make striking snapshots.

SUMMER'S gorgeous sunsets are splendid snapshot material, and sunset pictures are easy to take, whether you have a simple box camera or a high-grade folding camera with ultra-fast lens.

Charming silhouettes of persons can be made with the sunset as a background, and sunset shots across a lake or stream with reflections are remarkably beautiful. The effect of a sunset is heightened by a good foreground, such as a "frame" of trees or overhanging leafy branches. In the country try shooting the sunset with a piece of farm machinery silhouetted against it. A ploughing scene with straining horses silhouetted against the sunset sky makes a successful snapshot.

One of the most important points in picturing sunsets is to obtain a strong, vigorous cloud effect. Good clouds are often better than a riot of brilliant color, at least for black-and-white picture purposes. In many cases, a more striking result will be obtained if you place a color filter over the camera lens. The filter brightens its own colors and darkens its opposite or complementary colors. When in doubt, shoot one picture with the filter and one without. A good sunset is worth an extra shot or two.

Either chrome type or panchromatic film is excellent for sunset pictures. Short exposures are desirable in order to subdue detail in the foreground. If yours is a box camera which has a choice of lens openings, use the smaller opening. With rapid-lens cameras, try an exposure of f.16 at 1-50 or 1-100 second. If the sunset is quite bright and you are shooting across water, you may use an opening as small as f.22.

Watch the sunsets—keep your camera loaded—ready for action—and you will add many a charming snapshot to your collection.—John van Guilder.

HEARTS AND CLYDE CLASH IN FEATURE

Several Important Matches Carded in Scottish Football League Saturday

GLASGOW, Aug. 25 (CP).—Third week of the Scottish Football League schedule closes this Saturday with a number of even contests carded. Main interest is centred on Clyde and Hearts—only clubs of the twenty-team circuit to capture maximum points in three previous contests.

Celtic and Partick Thistle, with two victories each in three attempts, met snags in mid-week contests. The Celts opened the season by thumping Kilmarnock, 9-1, and in the return game on Wednesday the Killies held the champions to a scoreless draw. The Thistles were blanked 3-0 at Aberdeen.

Clyde has stiff opposition at Falkirk this week. The Brockville Park Club, a tough team to beat either at home or away, have shown lots of class during the past two seasons and are included among championship contenders.

The Edinburgh club goes to Glasgow to meet Partick, and Hearts' supporters confidently expect the invaders to break the Thistles' unbeaten record. It is one of the four-star attractions on the card. Aberdeen, strong North of Scotland entry, visits Celtic.

MEETS RANGERS

Another tight battle is scheduled for Paisley, where St. Mirrens and Glasgow Rangers meet. The Saints, rarely to the front in the leadership race, have a knack of upsetting pre-game dope when pitted against superior clubs.

Raith and Albion Rovers, up from the Second Division, have each lost two games and won one. Raith has a tough proposition at Glasgow against Third Lanark, and Albion visits Ayr United who fell 3-1 to Raith earlier this week.

The schedule winds up with matches billed between Arbroath and Hamilton Academicals, Hibernians and Queen of South, Motherwell and Kilmarnock, and St. Johnstone and the league's only amateur club, Queens Park.

Ralph Alcock was re-elected president of the Intermediate Football League at the annual meeting held last night in The Colonist board room. Charlie Jones was voted in as vice-president, and Fred Oliver was reappointed as secretary. The executive committee will be as follows: F. Bossom, F. Collier and M. McCaig. Entries for the league will close on September 15. All the annual reports were tendered and adopted as satisfactory.

VANDALIA, O., Aug 25 (AP).—Joe Hiestand, of Hillsboro, O., set an unprecedented grand American trapshooting record today as he broke 900 targets in a row—a perfect score for the entire sixteen-yard programme. Since he broke sixty-six consecutively in a Yorklyn, Del., shoot, his total of successive perfect shots reached 966.

PROFESSIONAL BALL SQUADS TO PLAY HERE

Vancouver and Tacoma Will Open Three-Game Series Next Thursday

PROFESSIONAL baseball returns to Victoria next week with the appearance of the Vancouver Maple Leafs and the Tacoma Tigers for a three-game league series at the Royal Athletic Park. The fixtures will be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Games on the first two days will commence at 5:30 o'clock, with the final game of the series to start at 2 o'clock.

Victoria Baseball Association officials yesterday placed their signatures to the contract calling for the visit here of the Leafs and the Tigers, members of the Western International League. The series was arranged following many conferences with league officials and owners of the two clubs.

Vancouver and Tacoma performed here last year and attracted large turnouts. The games were arranged by the anniversary celebration committee and were one of the highlights of the extensive programme of sport activities.

With prospects of enlarging the Western International League to eight clubs in 1939, Victoria is being considered as a new entry, and the support accorded the Vancouver-Tacoma series will give the league officials something to work on when the matter is discussed at the annual meeting of the Western International Baseball League.

Interest in the diamond pastime has shown a big increase this season, and judging by the way the fans have been turning out for exhibition games with touring clubs and teams from the Mainland and Washington, the game is on the road to regaining a permanent spot in the city's Summer sports calendar.

ESQUIMALT A.A. MEETS TONIGHT

The board of directors of the Esquimalt Athletic Association has called a meeting for this evening at its headquarters at 8:30. L. DeCosta will occupy the chair. All senior members are also invited to attend as well as others interested in the club. Important business matters will be brought up for discussion.

NEW TRACK RECORD

OTTAWA, Aug 25 (CP).—Bud Gano, owned by Louis Mack, of Hamilton, Ont., broke the track record for colts in harness races at Central Canada Exhibition here by reeling off the second heat of the $550 three-year-old race in 2:10½ yesterday. Gid Litt was in the sulky. This was the fastest mile by any colt in Canada this year.

NANAIMO SQUAD HERE SATURDAY

Up-Island Stickhandlers to Oppose Conservatives at Royal Athletic Park

Victors over the James Bay stickhandlers in the local play-downs, Manager Corness' Conservatives, senior boxla aggregation, will oppose Fletcher Bros., Nanaimo, tomorrow evening at the Royal Athletic Park in an inter-city exhibition match. The face-off is set for 5:30 o'clock, and followers of the gutted stick game should see plenty of action.

Playing in the senior league at Nanaimo the music house men finished at the top of the standings and received a bye in the post-season play-downs. They are reported to have a well-balanced squad and should provide plenty of stiff opposition for the Conservatives.

Manager Corness has had his boys in training for the past week and feels confident his proteges can take the measure of the Nanaimo squad just as easily as they did the Bays in the Victoria play-offs.

Conservatives team will be chosen from the following: A. Coleman, G. Corness, A. Troughton, R. Baker, J. McSween, G. Coleman, Entwhistle, T. Carney, H. Rowe, P. Foster, R. Peebles, D. Hodgkinson, S. Johnson, M. Maggs, W. Mair, R. Singleton, J. Skellern and A. Reid.

EXCELLENT CAST IS IN "GATEWAY"

Don Ameche and Arleen Whelan Are Co-Starred in Dramatic Hit at Dominion

The dramatic hit, "Gateway," will open today at the Dominion Theatre, with Don Ameche and Arleen Whelan co-starred, and Gregory Ratoff, Binnie Barnes, Gilbert Roland, Raymond Walburn and John Carradine featured. Maurice Moscovich, Harry Carey, Marjorie Gateson and Lyle Talbot are included in the cast. Alfred Werker directed the film for Associate Producer Samuel G. Engel.

In "Gateway," dramatic story of the most dramatic spot in the world, Ellis Island, Ameche brushes aside all obstacles to win the hand and heart of flame-haired Arleen Whelan, Twentieth Century-Fox's sensational new star discovery.

ATLAS THEATRE Thrills, heart throbs, boyish loyalties and regeneration are the dramatic elements in "Lord Jeff," which teams Freddie Bartholomew and Mickey Rooney at the Atlas Theatre. The picture definitely marks an advance in the careers of these boys who enact touching roles as juvenile seamen.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Heading the cast supporting Charles Starrett in "Cattle Raiders" at the Columbia Theatre are Donald Grayson, singing buckaroo, Iris Meredith, Dick Curtis, Allen Brook, and the Sons of the Pioneers musical quintette. Sam Nelson directed the picture from Joseph F. Poland's and Ed Earl Repp's screen play.

OAK BAY THEATRE Although Clarence Muse, famous negro screen actor, stage actor and composer, has what critics pronounce one of America's finest speaking and singing voices, his role in "The Count of Monte Cristo" at the Oak Bay Theatre does not permit him to utter a sound. He plays Ali, the mute, in this filmization of the Alexandre Dumas novel.

PLAZA THEATRE Quiet competence is usually a long time asserting itself, and that may help explain the slow, if certain, rise to stardom of John Loder, Gaumont's most tested and most constant leading man, who has a leading role in "Non-Stop New York," now playing at the Plaza Theatre.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Atlas—"Lord Jeff," starring Freddie Bartholomew.

Capitol—Alice Faye in "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Columbia — "Cattle Raiders," starring Charles Starrett.

Dominion — Don Ameche in "Gateway."

Oak Bay — "The Count of Monte Cristo," starring Robert Donat.

Plaza—Anna Lee in "Non-Stop New York."

MELODIC FILM IS HELD OVER HERE

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" Will Show for Another Three Days At the Capitol

"Alexander's Ragtime Band," while not a musical, does go through the past three decades in a dramatic story of our times—and in no more completely comprehensive manner can this be done than by the songs which captured the ever-changing tempo, kindling fond memories enriched by Irving Berlin's melodies.

Irving Berlin's "Alexander's Ragtime Band" has been held over, through popular demand, and which will show for three more days at the Capitol Theatre, is hailed as Darryl F. Zanuck's greatest dramatic production, starring Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SUMMER SUNSETS

Silhouettes against the sunset make striking snapshots.

SUMMER'S gorgeous sunsets are splendid snapshot material and sunset pictures are easy to take whether you have a simple box camera or a high-grade folding camera with ultra-fast lens.

Charming silhouettes of persons can be made with the sunset as a background, and sunset shots across a lake or stream, with reflections, are remarkably beautiful. The effect of a sunset is heightened by a good foreground, such as a "frame" of trees or overhanging leafy branches. In the country, try shooting the sunset with a piece of farm machinery silhouetted against it. A ploughing scene, with straining horses silhouetted against the sunset sky, makes a successful snapshot.

One of the most important points in picturing sunsets is to obtain a strong, vigorous cloud effect. Good clouds are often better than a riot of brilliant color, at least for black-and-white picture purposes. In many cases, a more striking result will be obtained if you place a color filter over the camera lens. The filter brightens its own colors and darkens its opposite or complementary colors. When in doubt, shoot one picture with the filter and one without. A good sunset is worth an extra shot or two.

Either chrome type or panchromatic film is excellent for sunset pictures. Short exposures are desirable in order to subdue detail in the foreground. If yours is a box camera which has a choice of lens openings, use the smaller opening. With rapid-lens cameras, try an exposure of f.16 at 1/50 or 1/100 second. If the sunset is quite bright and you are shooting across water, you may use an opening as small as f.22.

Watch the sunsets—keep your camera loaded—ready for action—and you will add many a charming snapshot to your collection.—John van Guilder

Rally Wakes Up New York Mart Near the Close

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP).—Stocks generally played shut-eye until the final lap of today's market when motors and steels awakened and led a quiet rally that put selected issues up fractions to more than a point, some to new tops for the year.

While several rails, utilities and specialties displayed moderately forward trends throughout, many of the recently strong leaders showed a notable lack of vigor until the last hour, with most a shade under water.

Turnover expanded in the concluding period and transfer totaled 826,570 shares compared with 1,235,160 the day before. The Associated Press average of sixty stocks advanced .2 of a point to 49.8.

Business news, on the whole, was still on the side of climbing stock prices.

Bonds were steadier today by the appearance of further good support in rail loans and reports from underwriting circles pointing to an active demand for new issues just on the market. The more active carriers were mixed.

The backward members of the corporate list in most cases suffered no more than fractional losses.

United States Governments continued to move in leisurely fashion, closing 4-32ds lower to 2-32ds higher.

Unevenness in the foreign dollar list was exemplified by a rise of 1 point in Japanese 6 1-2's and a drop of 2 1-4 in the 5 1-2's. Cuban 5 1-2's sold off 1 1-4 to 63 3-4.

MOSTLY LOSS IN TORONTO MARKET

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP).—Losses were in the majority on Toronto Stock Exchange today but McIntyre, Hudson Bay, Ford and Noranda bucked the general softening tendency to chalk up new 1938 highs. Utilities were best in the industrial list. Western oils were mostly lower. Transfers of 532,000 shares compared with yesterday's sales of 406,000.

McIntyre pushed up 1-2 to 48 1-2, but closed at 48 1-4 to gain 1-4 on the day. Pickle Crow gained 5c, while Pioneer, O'Brien and Little Long Lac lost that much. Wright-Hargreaves eased 19 to 7.80.

Malartic issues displayed marked weakness in cheaper golds. Sladen dropped 10 to 94; Canadian Malartic was off 5 1-2 at 94 1-4, and Eastern Malartic dropped 12 to 2.07.

London metal prices were lower, but Noranda went to 75 1-4 at one time and closed steady at 75. Hudson Bay added 3-8 at 31 1-8; Nickel advanced fractionally to 50 1-8, while Waite Amulet gained 15c to 5.65. Falconbridge fell back 15, and Smelters dropped 1 to 51.

Although selling ex-dividend, Ford pushed ahead to 21, up 1-4. Changes in big oils were slight, except for North Star's 10-point drop to 1.25.

Bell Telephone at 166 and Consumers Gas at 179 each advanced a full point. National Steel Car dropped 2 to 63 1-2. Foods and liquors softened and papers were easier.

Brown Oil held steady at 31, but Home at 1.16 and Dalhousie at 45 were off 4. Okalta eased 3 to 1.23, while Homestead advanced 1 to 22.

WHEAT FUTURES HIGHER AT CLOSE

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25 (CP).—Waves of selling that struck Winnipeg Grain Exchange pit during the last two days petered out near the close today and wheat futures after dropping 2 cents bounded back to finish 5-8 to 1-8 higher.

Materially aiding the comeback from seasonal lows and bottom levels since December 21, 1933, were export sales in excess of 500,000 bushels, and unchanged cash wheat prices.

Dominating influences were reports the United States Government seeks to subsidize 50,000,000 bushels of United States wheat through co-operation of the Canadian Government and reports the 6 cents a bushel duty on United States wheats entering the United Kingdom might be lifted. Rains that would delay harvesting in Saskatchewan were ignored.

Chicago slipped down to within fractions of its five-year lows, but recovered to close 1-8 to 1 cent higher. Liverpool made seasonal lows, except for December, finishing 1 3-8 to 1 3-4d lower. Large Russian exports and lower Canadian cash wheat prices yesterday were factors. Buenos Aires showed little change at noon.

Coarse grains closed firm, oats and rye slightly higher and barley a little lower. Flax failed to move.

LEADERS SUFFER FRACTIONAL LOSS

MONTREAL, Aug. 25 (CP).—A light wave of selling broke over Montreal Market today, washing small fractions from most leaders.

Canadian Car dipped 3-4 and the preferred 1-4, while National Steel Car eased 1-2. Steel of Canada slumped 3-4, Dominion Tar 1-2, Gypsum 3-8 and Dominion Bridge 1-8.

Paper and metal issues held up well. St. Lawrence Paper preferred added 1-2 and Nickel 1-8.

Gatineau preferred and Canada Northern Power were unchanged, while Montreal Power and Shawinigan drifted slightly lower.

"AN EIGHTH WONDER"

"An eighth wonder" implies, of course, seven other wonders. It implies more—a wonder on a par with those that have gone before. And the [illegible] those who know are aware is quite an order.

The seven wonders in this allusion were originally listed in the second century B.C. by Antipater of Sidon. They comprised the Pyramids of Egypt, the Hanging Gardens of Semiramis at Babylon, the Temple of Diana of Ephesus, the Statue of Zeus by Phidias at Olympia, the Tomb of King Mausolus erected by his wife at Halicarnassus, the Pharos (lighthouse) of Alexandria and the Colossus at Rhodes.

The Middle Ages, too, had their own idea of what constituted the seven wonders of the world. These were presumed to be the Colosseum of Rome, the Catacombs of Alexandria, the Great Wall of China, Stonehenge, the Leaning Tower of Pisa, the Porcelain Tower of Nanking and the Mosque of St. Sophia at Constantinople.

Those of us who are inclined to grow enthusiastic about the achievements of our own epoch might try getting up a contemporary list of wonders—we have a feeling, though, that by almost any yardstick the seven of antiquity would still be well up in front. Additions would just be added starters.

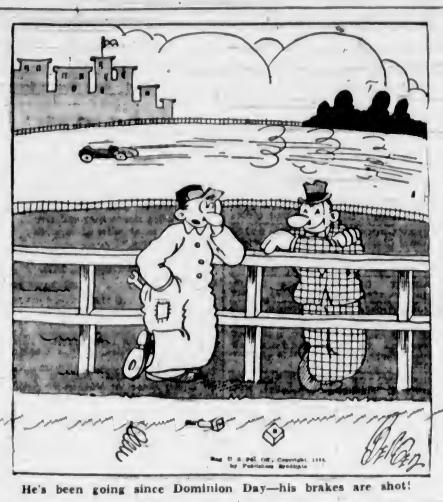
TIME OUT! - - - By Chet Smith



He's been going since Dominion Day—his brakes are shot!

LIFE'S LIKE THAT - By Fred Neher

"We fought a while . . . then everything went black!"

Jane Dixon Says:

PROBLEMS IN BRIEF: THE WOMAN WHO STILL LOVES HER HUSBAND DESPITE HIS NEGLECT AND MISTREATMENT OF HER—ADVICE SOUGHT BY A WOMAN WHO BELIEVES MEDDLESOME NEIGHBORS ARE CONSPIRING AGAINST HER—THE GIRL WHO FEELS HURT BECAUSE SHE WAS NOT INCLUDED IN AN INVITATION EXTENDED TO HER SISTER TO VISIT FRIENDS.—

No! Your problem is no more puzzling, your trouble no more depressing, than the troubles of your friends and neighbors.

It merely seems that way, because it is yours!

Mrs. XX—For the sake of your health and your sanity, you had better decide to "close the door," either between you and the ugly past or between you and your husband. You cry that you love this man despite the fact that he has endangered your health; used violence against you; flouted you for women of ill-repute; shamed and neglected you. All right then, love him and stop "howling" about it. That he loved you when you married, then obviously ceased caring for you, does not guarantee that he must, will or can love you again. Why, since you are living with your husband, don't you make a solemn resolve to drive out fear and suspicion and to woo confidence until such time as you have definite reason to know your husband is up to his old tricks. Try using reason. It is much more effective in righting marital upsets, than is desperation.

Mrs. M.R.—If your neighbors are meddlesome and you feel they have entered into a conspiracy against you, move! Why subject yourself to unpleasantness when there are so many pleasant places in which to live? Hold yourself above any petty tactics they may use to annoy you. Go quietly and calmly on your way and about your business. Ignore small-minded people lest they contaminate you!

Younger Sister—It is perfectly proper for a person to ask your elder sister for a visit without including you in the invitation. It would be equally proper for a friend or relative to ask you without including your sister. You are being foolishly sensitive and are taking offence where no offence was meant. While sister is gone see if you can't form a new habit—the habit of looking for the sunny side of life.

Jeff—Thanks a lot for your cheers. You're a lucky man to win such a loyal understanding girl. The other kind aren't worth the movie money and chewing gum it takes to get them. Here's a heap of happiness to you both.

TOO LATE

The visiting minister, after a very cold, Winter's drive, arrived at an out-of-the-way church to find a steaming-hot whisky toddy thoughtfully left for him in the vestry. Without touching it, however, he proceeded to robe himself and called for the verger.

"My friend," he said, beaming at his would-be benefactor, "I do sincerely appreciate your kindness and thoughtfulness in providing for me a hot drink that would appear to be—er—a stimulant. But I must gratefully decline for three reasons. In the first place I am a lifelong teetotaller, secondly, I am making temperance the subject of my sermon this evening and, thirdly, I've had one already."

Another Eve

By JANE DIXON

CHAPTER XXIV

"Oh, you are, are you, Mister Nolan? Then you've got a fat job on your hands. You'll have to prove the man was drunk, that we let him in, and that he left the next morning. Come on, Eve, let's climb the Alps. These bundles are getting heavy."

Spleen swelled Nolan's thick neck. He ran his fingers between it and his collar.

"You listen to me, Miss O'Toole," he called after the two girls who were mounting the steps. "And don't you give me none of your Irish lip, either. The young lady that put me wise knows the man and she knows you, too, knows all about last night——"

Kitty stopped in her tracks, hesitated a minute, then turned to send a brittle laugh down at the accuser. "So that's the racket," she said. "The small dark person who's been annoying Miss March, eh? How much will she pay you, Nolan, if you put us out?"

Surprise sent the man two steps backward, the breath hissing through his clamped teeth as from a punctured balloon.

"You be careful what you say to them as is your betters, Kitty O'Toole," he spluttered. "I thought you was respectable girls—and you entertainin' drunks in your room all night. You're getting out of here and you're gettin' quick."

"Says you. We don't take orders to move from janitors. We take 'em from agents or owners. I'm sure your boss'll be pleased to hear you're accepting bribes to get rid of tenants who pay their rent and mind their own business. Yes, Nolan, he'll be tickled pink to know what a smart harp you are."

"You got nothing to show I took a cent for giving notice to the likes of you, Kitty O'Toole, and that March woman who lets men in her room all hours of the night——"

"Stop hollerin', you big turkey," Kitty said sweetly. "You put your neck out so maybe I'll have to chop off your head." She turned to Eve. "Let's finish climbing the Alps, pal. Nolan's given me a taste of red meat."

Behind the bolted door of the duplex Kitty tumbled the packages on the sink.

"Brookie can cook up more cute tricks," she thought aloud. "Had the place watched. But what's the gag? Moving us out of here won't stop Little Caesar. He's too good a follower-upper."

"You believe Cynthia Brooke is paying Nolan to put us out?"

"Who else? You heard him say, 'the young lady put me wise,' didn't you? What other woman would be interested in sullying our lily white reputations?"

"But why? What could she gain——"

"Stop asking riddles and let's get this food going. We'll lay low and watch for the next move. My bet is we won't have long to wait."

The morning brought a letter from Phil in Washington. He was being held over a couple of days. The story was bigger than the paper anticipated. It took time to dig it out and to verify evidence. He was uneasy about Eve. How were the ankles doing? Was there anything he ought to know? Was Sam taking his job of duplex overseer seriously? He would serve notice of return in plenty of time for the steak he missed at the picnic to be put on the fire. The name of the dearest girl in the world was Eve.

"We'll say nothing to Sam about that big harp trying to scat us," Kitty told Eve. "The boy friend is up to his ears in worry about what's going on as it is. Has got furrows in his brow like a trench system. Sam's the silent kind that when he blows up he takes the roof with him. He's got a good job and he's going to keep it."

Another busy day in the shop. Eve was glad of it. Work was better than a sedative. A few minutes before closing time came an order from one of Eve's most profitable customers for a floral basket of assorted blooms, with the request that she arrange them herself. A generous order, but one that would take time to fill.

"I'll go on and get the home fires burning," Kitty offered. "Sam, you come on with Kitty and have a plate of our pot-luck. I don't like her roaming the streets alone, what with millionaire kids and gungals loose all over the town. Make it snappy, will you? I might get nervous."

"Don't be absurd," Eve demurred. "If I'm such a baby I can't get home without a guard——"

Kitty gave her a look. "So you won't give a pal a break, huh?" she said. "Didn't you hear me ask Sam to stay for supper?"

Eve slipped her arm around Kitty's waist for a tight squeeze. She said with that throb in her voice of deep emotion, "I'd give you anything I have, Kitcat, and wish there were more to give. Maybe Phil will get back in time to pull up a chair. That would be luck."

It was nearing seven when Eve and Sam reached the duplex. Eve was conscious of Nolan in the dusk of the back hall, a covert watcher. She opened the door with a happy "Home at last! When do we eat? Sam's starved."

Kitty stood by the table looking as though she had swallowed something very sour and very bitter.

"We've got company," she said, motioning with her head toward a chair in the far corner behind Eve.

"You're not calling Sam company?" Eve's protest was stopped by the wryness of Kitty's face. She turned to follow Kitty's nod. A woman sat in the chair under the lamp, stiff and uncompromising.

"Why—it's—it's Aunt 'Em." Eve whispered.

"In person," Kitty said.

Miss Emma March lifted her scant brows and ran a railroad of disapproval down her narrow neck.

"Just as I heard." Her lips were thin and blue. "Who is this person?" She stared at Sam.

Eve recovered. "Sorry, Aunt Em," formally. "May I present Mr. Sneed? This is my aunt, Miss March, Mr. Sneed."

"And what are you doing, Mr. Sneed, in the apartment of two young ladies, unchaperoned?" icily.

"I—we——" Sam was the color of a ripe red tomato.

Kitty rested knuckles on the table. "My friend, Mr. Sneed, is having supper with us," she said and treated Sam to an engaging smile. "Hang your hat on a hook, my lad. We got more fun in our house."

SORE DISTRESS

An Irishman was relating an experience of hardship in the jungle.

"Ammunition, food and whisky had run out," he said. "We were parched with thirst."

"Was there no water?" asked a listener.

"Sure, but it was no time to think o' cleanliness," replied the Irishman.

"My uncle is a centenarian."

"That is nothing. Mine is a millionaire."—Il Travaso, Rome.

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If August 26 is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 9 15 to 11 15 a.m., from 3 15 to 5 15 p.m. and from 7 15 to 9 15 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9 15 a.m., from 5 15 to 7 15 p.m. and from 9 15 p.m. until midnight.

You are apt to be successful in anything you undertake seriously this day. New enterprises launched this day are surrounded by unusually auspicious conditions; and if they are backed by sufficient capital they should be money-makers. Social aspirations have every chance of being realized, and through them much happiness may make this a memorable day. If you are face to face with some matter that seems to call for extreme or conservative action, it might be well to adopt a middle course. This is a poor day to try to jog along in a commonplace fashion in any affair that calls for dispatch and decision. You must display interest in people and things in general if you wish this to be an enjoyable day. Married and engaged couples, and those whose wooing is meeting with encouragement must be very tactful in voicing any opinion that they know in advance will not be well received.

If a woman and August 26 is your birthday, bear in mind that Wednesday ought to be the luckiest day in the week for you especially in any transaction involving money. You most likely will win plenty of well-deserved praise by doing some good work of a decidedly original nature. Being rather emotional, you might make a great success in dramatic work. Be careful that vanity does not turn your head and cause you to lose some very worthwhile friends. Never let social ambitions prompt you to slight people whose loyalty and interest in you have been demonstrated in the past. Ingratitude is one fault you must never be guilty of if you would avoid some future unhappy moments. As an artist, musician, teacher, actress, singer or sales agent, your achievements may meet with gratifying success. You probably will select a husband whose loyalty and devotion can be depended upon.

The child born on August 26 is likely in its childhood to make friends who will serve it well throughout life. This youngster's enterprising spirit should easily overcome obstacles and lead to success.

If a man and August 26 is your natal day, you ought to be equally popular with men and women. You likely have the knack of inspiring confidence. As a dentist, doctor, lawyer, architect, builder, politician, actor, author or sales representative, you may begin building a substantial fortune.

TOMATO GROWER DEFENDS CHARGE

Counsel Says Hothouse Tomatoes Are Not Natural Product Under Marketing Act

The defence that hothouse tomatoes were not a natural product as contemplated by the Natural Products Marketing Act was raised by P. J. Sinnott, counsel for A. McCormick, who pleaded not guilty before Magistrate Hall in the city police court yesterday to a charge of having engaged in the marketing of a regulated product, hothouse tomatoes, without being the holder of a licence and without being exempted by order of the British Columbia Hothouse Tomato and Cucumber Marketing Board.

Explaining that he was not attacking the act itself, which had been held to be valid by the Privy Council, Mr. Sinnott submitted that the hothouse tomato and cucumber marketing scheme was ultra vires, by reason of the fact that forced tomatoes were an artificial product and not a product of agriculture.

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, submitted that tomatoes were a natural product, and that the act must be interpreted in its broad sense.

Magistrate Hall reserved judgment until today.

The same defendant was later charged in the Saanich police court, under the marketing act, with having failed to produce books and records as required by the board. The case was adjourned for one week.

DAVID SPENCER LIMITED

TRUTH

The exceedingly stout lady indignantly tackled a bus inspector at a busy stopping place.

"I want to report the conductor of the bus that's just gone by," she cried. "He's been rude to me."

"How?" asked the inspector.

"Why," went on the woman, "he was telling people the bus was full up, and when I got off, he said 'Room for three inside.'"

SIMPLER!

The Dean of Canterbury is an admirer of Russian schools. Children are never caned there, he said the other day.

No. If the youngsters won't behave they just shoot the teacher for sabotage.

STOLE THE SHOW

Customer: Are you sure this parrot can talk?

Dealer: Talk! Why a woman's club sold 'im to me because none of the members could get a word in.

Now Is the Time . . .

To get your new Permanent for Fall! Don't delay until midseason—LEAD the style parade!
